District Local on Staff at Medical Centre

The Allora Medical Centre was fortunate recently in having the services of medical student Scott Wyvill temporarily on staff. While the Medical Centre can boast a healthy line-up of student doctors who have joined the Centre's staff short term to gain experience, most were strangers to the Allora area. Scott however can be considered a district local, born & bred in Warwick, his parents long time residents David & Kathy Wyvill. Twenty-four year old Scott attended Warwick's Glennie Heights

State School before heading to the Warwick State High School for his secondary & senior studies. Currently based in Toowoomba and employed in the Australian Army, Scott has completed three years studying science and is currently two and a half years through a medical degree with the University of Queensland, which he will complete in about eighteen months time.

His recent eight week practical stint has a rural experience requirement. A former Army Reservist, Scott is in his first year full time with the Defence Forces based in Toowoomba. After attaining his medical degree and qualifying as a Doctor he will serve at least another three years in the Army, which could see him posted anywhere Australian troops are deployed.

Having been on staff at the Toowoomba Base Hospital and also the Royal Brisbane Hospital, his time at the Allora Medical Centre has been very beneficial given Scott had no previous experience in general practice. While not having given any thought as yet to future direction in medicine, Scott is content currently to just focus on completing his medical studies. He does see a need though for more Doctors in the Warwick & Allora area, and the proposal of a new Medical Centre in Allora can only provide benefits for the local & surrounding community.

No. 10: Insulation - Cat owners tend to see their cat's reluctance to get wet as a sign of their aloofness and superiority. In reality, cats dislike water because their fur doesn't insulate them when it's wet. Rather like humans, they don't like to get cold!

Allora QCWA News -

As this was the last meeting for the 2011-2012 year, many loose ends needed to be tied. The date of the ninetieth birthday celebrations has been changed from 13th October to Sunday, 7th October.

Nominations were called for executive positions for the 2012-2013 year and it is a credit to the our branch that these positions were filled by members willing to take on these responsibilities.

Our Annual General Meeting will be held in conjunction with that of the Clifton Branch at their CWA rooms next Friday week,

BAD JOKE OF THE WEEK

The man fainted as he came out of his front door onto the porch. Someone who saw it happen dialed 000.

When the paramedics arrived, they helped the man regain consciousness and asked if he knew what caused him to faint.

"It was enough to make anybody faint," he said.

"My son asked me for the keys to the garage, and instead of driving the car out, he came out with the lawn mower.

Afternoon of Song

If you melt at the velvet tones of a classic crooner or are moved by the heartfelt rhythms of music's popular past; if you just love to laugh and feel uplifted by the power of great music, then come for a walk down memory lane at the Allora Community Hall next Sunday afternoon. The simply titled variety concert, An Afternoon of Song, will appeal to all ages and features The Allora Connections Band - John and Bob Denny, John and Ted Cowley, Lesley Telford and Michael Maw as well as support acts from other talented locals.

"It's the sense of community and the love of music that brings us together," says sole female performer, Lesley Telford, aka 'The Glue'. "We hope the audience can feel the same enjoyment that we feel when we get together and play."

The afternoon event is a community initiative of St Patrick's Parish, Allora and proceeds this year are planned to assist (among others) the Allora Medical Support Group, St Vincent de Paul and The School of St Jude in Tanzania. "It's all about creating an opportunity to bring the community together in a positive way and hopefully raise some funds to support groups locally as well as globally," says event organiser, Sue Higgins. The event marks the closure of celebrations for Catholic Education Week and will fittingly showcase the talents of the St Patrick's School Choir.

A deliciously old-fashioned afternoon tea is included in the $15.00 entry cost and children accompanied by an adult can enjoy the afternoon for free – including a special guest re-appearance by Ted Cowley's good mate, Jake the Peg. Doors will open at 12.45pm for a 1.30pm start on Sunday, 29th July, for what promises to be a social highlight on the 2012 calendar.

Allora Connections band members: John Denny, Lesley Telford, Bob Denny, Ted Cowley and John Cowley.

Allora Ambassador Involved in Vital Charity "Duck Push"

Allora was inundated with ducks on Sunday, 8th July, with the Ernie Young Pavilion at the Allora Showgrounds spilling over with classy pedigreed quackers of all shapes, sizes and colours... mallards, khaki campbells, Indian Runners, Cayuga's along with countless others.

But give a little thought to coaxing one of our quacking feathered friends to trek halfway across a nation!! Well it happened on the Emerald Isle very recently with an Allora local among those in the support entourage as a duck led the way in a major charity event.

While he is an Allora local, 18 year old Matthew Kanowski is also currently considered a local around the Clane area in Ireland after involvement in an annual charity event that raised €75,000 (just over $90,000).

Matthew, the son of Shaun & Leanne Kanowski of Mt. Marshall, is spending a gap year at Clongowes Wood College, a voluntary secondary boarding school for boys, located near Clane in County Kildare, Ireland. One of Ireland's leading boarding schools, located in the heart of County Kildare, the College is located just 35 minutes from the centre of Dublin. The College was founded by the Jesuits in 1814, and it is one of Ireland's oldest Catholic schools.

The past six months has seen the former Allora State School and Scots College Warwick student over 16,500 kms from his Mt. Marshall home as a gap student at Clongowes.

While a year in Ireland, especially at a school that can boast a 13th century medieval castle is an amazing experience, Matthew explained that part of that experience has been an annual Clongowes College charity initiative known as the "Duck Push": "Basically there is a large model duck bolted onto a maneuverable trolley and the school students along with gap students push this duck in groups, two pushing and two steering".

In an amazing effort over a two week period the duck is pushed from Dublin to Limerick, a distance of 174 kms, around halfway across Ireland. Enroute with the 'fundraising duck' students pass through the towns of Maynooth, Naas, Sallins, Kilcullen, Clane, Newbridge, Kildare, Portlaoise, Abbeyleix, Mounrath, Birr, Athlone, Nenagh, Roscrea and Limerick.

"The students, from 10th Grade, volunteer their time along with the staff members for the event which has been run annually for the past twenty years. The students involved were divided into three groups; two groups would be pushing the duck for a day while the remaining group would be collecting for the charity at the towns stopped at over night".

Matthew's role mostly involved driving a van as an escort behind the groups pushing the duck. "I will always remember the satisfaction of receiving the praise of the local Irish community and raising the money for such an important charity". The beneficiary of the two weeks of 'giant duck maneuvering and pushing' is Our Lady's Children's Hospital, Crumlin in Dublin. Our Lady's Children's Hospital is an acute paediatric teaching hospital with 243 beds, employing 1200 staff. It is Ireland's largest paediatric hospital and is responsible for the provision of the majority of tertiary care services for children and medical research for childhood illnesses in Ireland.

The €75,000 raised will enable the purchase of an important specific state of the art piece of equipment for the hospital. "It was an awesome experience and a definite high-light to the year thus far" recalls Matt.

quality of life in their local area, by featuring them on the cover of next year's Toowoomba Yellow Pages® and White Pages® Book.

Whether they're tireless charity fundraisers, ingenious doctors or warm-hearted volunteers, Sensis is searching for health care heroes as part of next year's 2013/14 theme Keeping Our Communities Healthy.

White Pages® Product Manager Sarah Simpson said, "Every Australian understands the value of good health. It is what every parent wishes for their child and every individual hopes will never desert them. And at the heart of Australia's health care industry are the selfless men and women who devote their time to improving others' quality of life.

"We want to celebrate those individuals keeping our communities healthy, whether it's through raising funds for health-related charities, initiating support groups, promoting preventative health care messages or pioneering a major medical breakthrough.

"No matter how big or small their actions, helping improve another's quality of life should be commended."

Revitalised Southern Queensland Country Partnership hits the ground running

A brand new initiative kicked off last week, bringing together tourism heavyweights from across Southern Queensland to drive a new Tourism Organisation for our region.

Southern Queensland Country Tourism - a new, 'super-RTO' (Regional Tourism Organisation) - is bringing together Toowoomba Golden West and South Burnett Tourism with Southern Downs and Granite Belt Regional Tourism in order to give the whole region the momentum and scale needed to foster tourism growth in our region. A Transitional Advisory Board has been appointed to manage the transition to the new body. The explicit focus of the group will be to mobilise the local grassroots to engage in supporting and marketing Southern Queensland Country.

The first goal for the new organisation will be getting local authorities to commit to a $1.15 per capita benchmark spend on regional tourism. Speaking during her first week on the job as Chair of the transitional board, Professor Jane Summers said she was looking forward to the opportunity of a fresh start that the new 'Super RTO' will offer.

"This is all about giving our region a much stronger voice. Southern Queensland Country will give local tourism the scale, recognition, and critical mass we need, while taking advantage of our contemporary country lifestyle'.

In coming months Southern Queensland Country Tourism will launch a new brand, marketing strategy and website for the region.

Locals interested in connecting with Southern Queensland Country Tourism will be invited to sign-up to a new website, to be launched later this year, or by telephone 07 4632 1988.

Young fretworkers from all over Queensland entered a competition conducted by the Courier Mail newspaper. All the entries were of a high standard and the judges commented that it was a difficult task to select the final winners. Amongst the entrants to submit a neatly cut and well finished frame was H. Do You Ping Pong?

The once favourite indoor game known as ping-pong has recently been enthusiastically revived in many centres and, according to an advertisement appearing elsewhere in this issue, the Allora Ping Pong Club is making a big bid for popularity. Four tables have been placed in Whitman's buildings next door to the "Guardian" office and opposite the Australian Bank of Commerce. The lighting and general arrangements are very good and the opening night has been fixed for Tuesday next. Tournaments are to be organized regularly for which good prizes will be offered and, as the membership has been fixed at a cheap rate, the club should boom along.

Obituary

The many old friends in Allora and district of Mrs. J. E. Flynn will regret exceedingly hearing of her death which took place in Brisbane early on Thursday morning, following an operation for long-standing internal trouble. The late Mrs. Flynn was identified with Allora from her earliest youth, and her untimely death has been a matter of general regret. She was buried at Ipswich yesterday beside the grave of her first husband. She leaves in addition to her husband, Mr. J. E. Flynn, one little daughter, Miss Josie McCormack, to whom the sympathy of all go out in their sad bereavement.

(Mrs. Ellen Flynn formerly McCormack (nee Kelley) was part of a four generation connection with the Royal Hotel (now the Blue Cow). Her father, Patrick Kelley, was licensee of the hotel from 1880 to 1883. Ellen Kelley bought the freehold of the Royal in 1903 and left it, in trust, to her daughter, Mary Josephine McCormack, on her death in 1912. Mary McCormack, later McKendry and Collins, held the freehold of the hotel until it was sold in 1957 at which time her son, Jock McKendry was the licensee.

The Allora and District Historical Society has received a Regional Arts Grant to refurbish the collection of Mayoral photos on the walls of the Old Shire Hall. Patrick Kelley, Allora Mayor in 1895 and 1896, is one of the Mayors missing from the almost complete collection. If anyone knows descendants of the above Kelley family, the Society would be pleased to hear from them)

Rugby Union

Warwick Water Rats Under 11s player and local resident Toby Gilmore has enjoyed a fruitful season scoring several tries as he locks the scrum for the Rugby Club. Toby Gilmore, Mitchell Bourke, Patrick McCosker and Jimmy MacDonald from Scots PGC College are currently training at Goondiwindi in preparation for the Darling Downs Under 12 Rugby Trials to be held at Toowoomba Grammar School next week. Toby also enjoyed success being selected in the Southern Downs Under 11 Rugby League team but unfortunately was unable to attend the Darling Downs Trials due to injury. Well done Toby and good luck next week.

Danes Dominate Winless Warriors

Wattles toiled long and hard at Pittsworth on Saturday evening, but despite their urgency for a winning result, they were again denied premiership points well beaten by the Pittsworth Danes 54 - 0. Former Queensland Cup front-rower Matt Briggs was the outstanding player in the match, leading the Pittsworth forwards as they relentlessly broke Wattles line. Wattles youngster Carl Gale showed maturity beyond his years, the front-rower never taking a backward stop against the onslaught and was voted Wattles best player and the team player's player for his efforts. Back-rowers Aaron Scheid and Captain/Coach Glen McMillan were also among Wattles best across the eighty minutes where the Warriors failed to put points on the scoreboard. Tough young front-rower Justin Wade took the field in first grade, making his debut at the level, as did Under 18 half Josh Henry, Henry actually running on in all three games on the program.

...Continues on back page

In other games on the day, Wattles Railway Hotel, Allora reserve graders were defeated 8 – 40. Hooker Josh McIntosh was Wattles best, while Wattles tries were scored by Robert McIntosh and Dean Cubby. Utility player Jim Johnson shone in Wattles Allora Foodworks under 18 side's 18 – 48 loss to the Danes. Wattles points came from tries to Brodie Frizzell (2), Brendan Nothdurft & Michael Duggan, with Anthony McIntosh kicking a lone goal.

Wattles host the Oakey "Bears" this Sunday at Platz Oval with matches kicking off at 11.30 am (Under 18), 1.00 pm (Reserve Grade) & 2.30 pm (A Grade).

GOLF

Allora Golf Notes
15-7-12

Last Sunday we played for the Jenco Feeds & Seeds Monthly Medal. Winner of the day was Rod Simpson, Runner Up was John Sparksman. Good to see John back. Only one Pin shot went off, Well done Wal. Next week will be Club Trophy. The pennants side traveled to millmeran last week and got a touch up, but the course was in great condition so it must of been the golfers. A big thanks to all helping out with the Allora course while Kel has been out of action your doing a great job. The duck run is still going strong so for good arvo on Friday come on down. Don't forget your sand buckets and remember - to play is to live.
