in personal development, leadership and community service, with a focus on Rotary principles and values.

The students recounted many stories of both fun and adventure, as well as challenge, and affirmed to the meeting that the personal growth and change to their outlook, stepping out of their comfort zone and the affirmation of their usual peer group, makes the whole program worthwhile. Both members and parents alike were proud of their achievements.

Rotary looks forward to promoting and supporting further youth programs. As a small club, we are not able to independently fund all Rotary youth programs but we are able to collaborate with other clubs in programs and nominate and strongly advocate for candidates from the Allora area.

Rotary supports Youth Programs for Allora Youth Leaders

The Rotary Club of Allora hosted a celebration of Allora's youth at a partners and friends night, with presentations by a Rotary Exchange student and Allora State School captains who attended the Rotary Youth Program of Enrichment.

Isabeau Hill, from Minnesota, USA, entertained and educated with her recount of her time in Australia as guest of the Rotary Club of Warwick (Sunrise), detailing her personal journey from rather frightened and shy visitor to a confident and entertaining speaker. Isabeau also presented photos of her Australian adventures traveling the length of breadth of the country.

Rotary Exchanges provide unique and enriching experiences for any young people, with the year of eligibility now moved to Year 11 to provide students with an uninterrupted Senior year. It is only one part of an extensive set of programs for youth, including RYPEN (Rotary Youth Program of Enrichment).

Five Allora State School captains, Mary Higgins (School Captain), Ailish Wallace (Vice Captain), Ella Gartery (House Captain), Caitlyn Bott (House Captain) and Shae Erhardt (House Captain) traveled to the Camp Bornhoffen, near the NSW border in the Gold Coast Hinterlands, for a 3 day program

Letters to the Editor...

To the Editor,

We can do much better this winter:

Australia has a proud history of being one of the world's most compassionate countries. However, as the colder months set in, there are tens of thousands of Aussies who still need a helping hand from Red Cross. Last year we helped more than 20,000 people who were lonely, vulnerable and at risk of serious illness or injury.

We must never accept that that life can't be better for Queensland families, friends and neighbours. In winter, it's the poorest who often suffer most, including young homeless people and families struggling to make ends meet.

A donation to Red Cross before 30 June will ensure we can continue to carry out our work such as keeping in touch with the vulnerable and isolated to ensure they are safe; it will help provide breakfast for Aussie kids, who would otherwise go to school hungry and help in times of disaster in Australia and across the region. It will help us to work in partnership with Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander communities.

To donate, or for more information, go to redcross.org.au.

Council to trial new on-call arrangements for critical services

Southern Downs Regional Council will trial new on-call arrangements for critical Council services required after hours, for a three-month period starting on June 21.

Southern Downs Regional Council's Chief Executive Officer, Mr David Keenan said the new on-call arrangements included a reduction of the number of staff rostered as after-hours on-call personnel, and offered considerable operational savings.

"The trial is the result of a comprehensive review by Council staff of the after-hours on-call personnel arrangements that have been in place for a long time.

"The review of these arrangements was done in consultation with staff and is part of Council's ongoing commitment to identifying efficiencies and savings within the organisation," he said.

The trial will reduce existing on-call manning of 18 personnel to eight on-call staff from Monday to Saturday, and four on-call staff on Sundays.

Mr Keenan emphasised that the trial arrangements would ensure that critical Council services are supported effectively and appropriately, while providing savings.

"The new system will deliver enormous savings estimated at $200,000 per year.

"To achieve a comparable sum through active revenue raising would require a rate rise of about one per cent, and we know that simply would not be well received by our ratepayers and the Southern Downs community.

"Instead, Council is engaging a proactive approach to drive continuous improvement and further productivity gains through revised systems and processes, such as the new on-call arrangements," he said.

Mr Keenan added that Council anticipates that the on-call changes would boost productivity through a more effective, targeted use of the skill sets of staff within the organisation.

Shire Boundary Review

Mr. Tom Sherman, chairman of the Electoral and Administrative Review Commission, told a hearing in Warwick that changes would only come where tangible benefits could be seen. Allora Shire Chairman, Mr. Jim Deacon, said that Allora did not want boundary changes but if this was decided upon, then Allora would prefer to be aligned with Warwick, rather than with Clifton and/or Cambooya Shires. The Allora Shire Council suggested that if amalgamation was necessary, then two new rural shires based on Allora and Killarney be formed, along with the Warwick City Council. "This would save costs, maintain employment and provide a compromise in the best interest of the Southern Downs," Councillor Deacon said. He expressed concern about "getting the message through" if a larger council was in authority.

Private Herbert Edward Whitton, a son of Mr. Joseph Samuel Whitton of Allora, was taken prisoner of war while serving with 1 Corps Transport Supply Column. Private Whitton was amongst a large number of Australians taken prisoner of war in Greece and Crete. After being incarcerated in German prisoner of war camps for up to 2 1/2 years they were repatriated to Australia in December 1943. The former prisoners were unanimous in stating that the Red Cross parcels saved them from a very bad time. One of the men said that the treatment in the German camps had been better since the Russian situation

Football Match

On Saturday last Greenmount and Allora football teams met on the Allora Recreation Reserve. The Greenmount team arrived at 12 o'clock and after a short ramble around the town, adjourned to lunch at Mr. John Kelly's Royal Hotel. At 3 o'clock sharp the game started. In the first half a nasty accident happened to one of the most promising players of the Allora team named Harrison, a youth of 15 years of age who was playing a splendid game. He came into collision with Culhane and had his leg broken above the knee. This stopped the game for a short time. Dr. Pain, who was playing the game, set the broken limb. Allora played a splendid game considering that it is their first game for this season and there is no doubt that with plenty of practice they will be the premier team of the Downs. At the call of time the scores were Greenmount 12, Allora nil. In the evening the Allora team entertained the Greenmount team to a splendid spread at John Kelly's hotel. The Greenmount team subscribed £2 to a fund raised for young Harrison who was injured.

Meanwhile, Killarney will turn on two great weekends. The famous Killarney Bonfire night promises perhaps the biggest bonfire you've ever seen and the chance to chat with friends around the amazing metal "firey giants" (fire drum) creations. Leah herself creates colourful "Cabochon" glass beads for various decorating purposes and will be revealing her creative secrets to visitors. (Leah will also be hosting workshops through the week so you can walk away with your very own unique pendant keepsake.) Leah is proud of the diversity of crafts people can experience at the event.

"All our artisans on the day are from the Downs. Other fascinating items include stunning silk-dyed scarves, natural soaps, popular paper beads, and wool enthusiasts should enjoy watching creations being worked on an original 70's knitting machine!" Home baked refreshments will also be available.

While in Allora, make a day of it and drop into the Old Allora Shire Hall for the Museum open day.

For history buffs, this will be a memorable visit as Allora district holds some of Queensland's oldest recorded memories. Add live Jazz by favourites Lorraine Stanley and the ever popular "Saxy Lady" plus some home cooking, and it all adds up to a warm, engaging day.

The Mt Colliery surrounds should be the perfect place to immerse yourself in the CWA timber themed craft and photography display, featuring the outstanding work from the Allora Photography Club alongside the exquisite items by local woodworkers.

CWA Secretary Melinda Borelli is excited to have such a display for Jumpers and Jazz.

"The woodworkers have quite an enticing array of items on show and for sale, from rocking horses to functional "keepsake" bowls, and other unique pieces which would stand proud in any home. The photography club have excelled in producing an amazing presentation. It's a delightful drive to Mt Colliery. Top it off with scrumptious snacks and it will be a trip well worth your while!"

More than just a check up – change the way we perceive Men's Health

Blokes from Men's Sheds nationally will be participating in Men's Health Week (June 13-19) this year with many Sheds opening their doors and hosting male screening programs called 'Spanner in the Works'? Utilising local Health Service or volunteer medical professionals the Spanner programme provides a brief, men friendly Men's Health check and key Men's Health information that is aimed at promoting men to identify health issues early as well as encouraging men to have a full annual check up with their GP.

The Spanner programme provides some key health messages to men in a form that is understandable and achievable. Spanner is not about telling men what to do but sets out some things that they can do (or not do) to improve their health and the chances of a longer and happier life. It gives men the opportunity to make adjustments as they see fit.

Each check takes about 15 minutes and includes assessment of diabetes risk, emotional wellbeing, blood pressure and waist measurement as well as some reminders about keeping on top of issues such as exercise levels, cholesterol, skin checks and bowel cancer checks. At the end of each check the man is provided with up to four key and achievable recommendations to improve their health. Hopefully each man will take the results along with them to discuss the issues further with their GP.

Men are usually quite fastidious about maintaining their vehicles with scheduled services not being missed. Men realise what the implications can be of poor maintenance. Yet when it comes to looking after the most important piece of machinery, ourselves, men can often overlook the annual check-up and preventative maintenance which may lead to dire consequences later on.

This is just one initiative that the Australian Men's Shed Association has taken to improve the health of Aussie Men but there is still a long way to go. "5 men die every hour in Australia from preventable causes and almost 5 men die by suicide every day" AMSA CEO David Helmers stated, "In the lead up to this year's election it is time for Government to take firm action to address these issues and commit to funding Men's Health programmes"

"Men's Sheds and the role they play in reducing social isolation and improving mental health, especially in older males, are well known. The Men's Shed movement has grown over 300% in the past 4 years with 957 Men's Sheds now operating in Australia with a further 600 plus operating in Ireland, the UK and New Zealand. Despite an estimated 150,000 men participating in Sheds we are only reaching a small percentage of our men. One of the things that is required is broader Male Health programmes aimed at early detection and prevention." Last October the AMSA launched a new website named after our highly successful Male Health screening programme "Spanner in the Works?"

www.malehealth.org.au provides a single access point to over 52 Male Health partner organisations including Andrology Australia, The Heart Foundation, beyondblue and Foundation 49. Mr Helmers added that "This website has been a huge success with 55,000 visits to the site since becoming operational. The site has filled a void in the web when it comes to finding accurate information on Men's Health but we need to address the larger issues and focus more on preventative health initiatives"

Financial support available for those affected by drought.

New funding has been released as part of the Community Drought Support Package for 2016. The Package has three key elements and the first to be rolled out will be flexible financial hardship support to community members experiencing hardship in the drought declared communities within the Southern Downs Regional Council area.

This funding will be delivered by Condamine Headwaters Landcare in conjunction with The Salvation Army Warwick Corps. Funding support will be targeted to cover those items not eligible under existing support programs and include, but are not limited to, training, vehicle registration, payment of overdue accounts and accounting fees. There is a cap on the amount of funds available and once used, the assistance program will be closed.

Landcare Coordinator, Catherine Travers said "We are very happy to be able to offer support in this way to all residents affected by drought throughout the Southern Downs Region. The very nature of flexible funding means that if residents are having trouble paying certain accounts, we would encourage them to seek assistance to determine their eligibility. Landcare is very pleased to partner with The Salvation Army to deliver this program that will contribute to helping our land managers get back on track".

For more information or to find out if you are eligible please contact Donna Neale-Arnold at The Salvation Army on 07 4661 1031 (Option 2). Information will also be regularly posted on our Condamine Headwaters facebook page and website.

This funding is administered by the Department of Communities, Child Safety and Disability Services. The aim of the funding is to provide support initiatives to strengthen the resilience of drought-affected Queenslanders by revitalizing existing community support mechanisms within defined geographic regions.

Wattles v Collegians fixtures at Clifton

Saturday we played home fixtures at Platz Oval against Warwick Collegians, we also hosted the Tenterfield u14 team who played Collegians u14 Blue. A large crowd was present for the games, we managed to utilise our second playing field for the day also, this second field will also be in use next week. There will be no car parking park infield for the safety of players and spectators.

All teams played Saturday, with good results and plenty of Wattles players enjoying some great footy.

U7 Allora Pharmacy and Clancy Smith Water Services - It is very pleasing to see the large numbers of players at training and games and we are very fortunate that our opponents of late have large numbers and give us the opportunity to play 2 games on a Saturday.

This week, the kids were given 3 points to concentrate on during this weekends game:

1. Stay in the field of play
2. Be in the correct position on the field
3. Tackle with your shoulders.

The players have shown real improvement and did well in achieving these goals

The Allora Pharmacy team went well. Jack Burton had a excellent game with 2 ripper tries and many good tackles to lift his team, he was well supported by Jack McCarthy and Riley Fitzgerald. Kaleb Millard and Bailey Gascoyne continue to display improvement in their game.

In the Clancy Smith team tries were scored by Tommy Worboys, Henry McMillan with one each, Marty May 2 and Zac Wheeldon 3 tries. Archer Steinhart, Orry Gilmore and Billy Keogh defended very well. Thank you to Greg Burton, Glen McMillan, Scott Keogh and Adam May for their assistance on game days and at training. Our last game before the holidays is this Saturday at Platz against Goondiwindi Boars

U10 Eastwell and Sons - A great display of football was on show this week with two teams keen to get the better of each other. It was a big test for the Wattles Under 10's playing a well organised tough team Collegians .

Once again we were up for the challenge, playing smart football in attack and with quick swarming defence Wattles where able to come out on top scoring 5 tries to 3 . Our forwards this week were fantastic, lead by Mitch Willett , Elijah Bowe and McCabe Miller making plenty of tackles. Best on ground was given to Mitch Willett and Brock Wheeldon. Mitch racked up 23 tackle's, very impressive .

Big mention to our new recruits playing their first game for the mighty Wattles Warriors, Felicity Nolan and William Auger.

Well done Wattles under 10's, keep improving and having fun. U13 Hopper Haulage - A wonderful moral boosting win for the boys today with a 42-20 victory.

All of our team members played hard, for themselves and each other, for me that was a highlight of the game. Sam Scott and Elijah Hall and Ben Hawk were very good today, their defensive efforts were solid with all 3 boys preventing tries with hard work and clever play.

Other highlights worth mentioning were Lachlan Meacle's accuracy with the boot today converting 5 from 5 from all over the park plus scoring 2 tries, Jackson's amazing 90m try untouched and Jacob a great intercept try. Other try scorers today were Jackson 2, Jacob 2 and Ben 1. Conversions were also kicked by Jacob and Hamish.

Our team captain Ryley Lever is leading by example,his organisation and talk is good and his defence is spot on, Levi Statham and Michael Duncan are making plenty of ground with each touch of the footy and worry the opposition defence.

Well done fellas, let's keep belief going.

U16 Hamblin Builders - The young Warriors went out with a game plan and carried it out pretty well, only to fall short with some crucial errors, which put them on the back foot and allowing Collegians to maintain momentum.

Good games were had by Jack Duggan creating nice opportunity with the ball, Paden Murphy moving up quickly in defence and good attacking runs, one of which resulted in a nice try, Nick Blakemore's efforts in the front row were good with plenty of hit ups and solid tackling, Ty Norris's efforts off the bench were impressive, his enthusiasm and work load was good to see. Darcy Brady had a good all round game with his defence a key to this team, Kaleb Lever was very good on the wing, Kaleb scored two great tries in the fashion of all good wingers getting low on the line.

Saturday games pinpointed a few issues that we can work on in the coming weeks, mainly our line speed, ball control and options in attack.

This week we play Goondiwindi at Platz Oval.

Then, seven minutes before Full Time, the Hawks lost the ball from a scrum they fed to have Joe Fuimaono swoop to score his third try of the match and give the Cowboys an eight point lead.
