Women Empowered To Tell Their Story at RSL 100th Centenary Community Luncheon

A speaker knows when their message has reached the hearts and understanding of their audience when they are given a standing ovation. This is how Sarah Turner's speech affected the 200 people who attend the RSL 100th Centenary Community Luncheon held in Allora on Saturday.

Sarah told of her personal journey to cope with Post Traumatic Stress Disorder after her discharge from the navy. No one could not be moved by the Sarah's story of being abandoned by her 'defence service family' and having to cope on her own with her problems after she left the navy with the rank of LCDR. It is now six years since Sarah was discharged and she has now gained the courage to tell her story to help others in a similar situation.

Darlene Brown who was also a guest speaker at the luncheon had a similar experience after her discharge from the navy in 2005 with Post Traumatic Stress Disorder. Darlene did not cope and was finally admitted to the Toowong Psychiatric Guest speakers Darlene Brown and Sarah Turner.

Hospital in 2013. She told of how the 'self-help' organisation of Mates4Mates and how her participation in Help4Heroes Big Battlefield Bike rides in France helped her regain her self-esteem. Her story of being a competitor in the Invictus Games in Orlando earlier this year explained how the RSL support and sponsorship is helping the wellbeing of veterans whether they suffer from physical or psychological issues.

The message that both women presented did not only reach ex-military personnel, many other people with Post Traumatic Stress Disorder as a result other causes came up and asked how they too could seek help and expressed their gratitude to Sarah and Darlene for speaking up about a mental illness that has for too long not been taken seriously. Lawrence Springborg MP proposed a toast to the RSL. He thanked the RSL Sub Branches of Allora, Clifton and Leyburn for hosting the luncheon to celebrate the 100th anniversary of the RSL in Australia and showcasing the RSL's support of servicemen and women.

In his speech, the President of RSL Queensland, Stewart Cameron encouraged members of the many RSL Sub Branches in attendance to take a resolution to the next RSL State Conference for their organisation to use their strength of numbers to change the culture of the defence department. He said that the Defence Department had to be persuaded to 'open the door' to step up and follow up on ex-service members.

Jim Corby, President of RSL Allora Sub Branch acted as Master of Ceremonies. Jim thanked the members of Allora, Clifton and Leyburn for their assistance in arranging the luncheon.

The success of the function was enhanced by the attention to detail by the organising committee under the leadership of Allora Sub Branch Treasurer, Kath Turner. The tables were set in black and white linen. Red poppies placed on grey serviettes added a touch of colour. Balloons in the colours of Invictus, black, grey and yellow added to the overall effect. Deeny Kohler-Caporale was in charge of the catering. She presented a tasty three course menu that was enjoyed by all. Deeny in her risqué style, along with Warwick jazz band provided musical entertainment during the afternoon.

Traditional entertainment was provided by the Thistle and Heritage Highlands who with Colin Christelow on trumpet played "Sounds of Kuwait" a piping tribute to the forces of Iraq at the start of proceedings and "Minstrel Boy" an Irish Patriotic song which became a signature tune of WWI at the end of the day.

Members of the RSL Warwick Sub Branch conducted the Missing Members Ceremony, a tradition carried out an official RSL functions. The Ode of Remembrance was recited followed by the Last Post, a minutes silence and the Reville played by Colin Christelow.

Rev. Dennis Mooney, chaplain for the Allora RSL Sub Branch said Grace and Stacey Turner sang the National Anthem.

Letters to the Editor...

Dear Editor,

Australian parents are spending an estimated $67 million on cough and cold medicines that are known to be ineffective and in some cases potentially harmful. The Australian Child Health Poll found that a third of kids under six-years are being given cough and cold medicine even though they are not recommended for this age group.

What's particularly disturbing is that among parents who are giving these products to their young children, 74 per cent said they were told to do so on the advice of a pharmacist, and 64 per cent on the advice of a doctor.

Parents of young children who are advised to use an over-the-counter cough or cold medicine should challenge the advice; if your child is under six years of age, don't buy it.

We also found that an estimated $74 million a year is being spent on vitamins and supplements even though there's no proven health benefits for kids on a normal diet and with no nutritional deficiencies.

Dr Anthea Rhodes,
Director, Australian Child Health Poll

Allora Men's Shed Members sold tickets in our latest raffle: an Impresso Capsule Coffee Machine, to the generous local Community last Friday. It will be drawn on 30th September.

There will be a large useful Christmas raffle of gardening goods closer to the celebratory time.

The inclement weather on Saturday cancelled the intended working bee to complete the new Jubb Street site fencing. It is now hoped to have as many hands as possible on deck for Saturday 24th.

Visitors and persons with small jobs/repairs are welcome to call at the Herbert Street shed during opening hours of Thursday and Saturday mornings.

TWO EXHIBITIONS RICH IN STORIES AND TECHNIQUE

Warwick Art Gallery is pleased to present two exhibitions that are rich in content and technique and that also happen to be the work of seven talented local artists. Got Mittens Too and Confluence will be officially opening on Friday 16 September and will be on display until late October.

Got Mittens Too is Peter Osborn's first solo exhibition at Warwick Art Gallery. Peter has a background in structural engineering design and has studied visual arts at the University of Southern Queensland. His works include ceramic figurative sculpture and watercolour illustration.

The 100 year commemoration of the Anzac involvement in World War 1 became a personal journey when he read the diary his grandfather wrote while on service at the Western Front. This brief document provided many poignant images of the conflict and devastating loss of life.

"I became interested in my grandfather's WW1 experiences after my uncle sent me a scanned copy of his diary from that time," said Peter, "He arrived in France in mid 1916 as a sapper with the 13th brigade of the 4th Division AIF and somehow survived, particularly the third battle of Ypres where his younger brother was killed.

In addition to the exhibition Peter has designed a catalogue book featuring excerpts from the diary, text and images from the exhibitions. The book is available from the Gallery during the exhibition.

Confluence is a collaborative textile landscape that was conceived during a workshop at Jumpers and Jazz in July in 2015 facilitated by textile artist, Dorothy Haig. Participating artists experimented with a variety of individual methods of printmaking based on traditional techniques, while exploring the broad concept of resilience.

The six artists, all based on the Southern Downs except for Dorothy Haig who has recently moved to Maleny, have created beautiful printed works on fabric that together take a timely look, on many levels, at the resilience of Outback Australia. Got Mittens Too and Confluence will be on display from TODAY, Thursday 15 September until Sunday 28 October, 2016. You can see the artists at the official opening on Friday 16 September at 6.30pm. This is a free event and anyone is welcome but please rsvp to the gallery on 07 46610434.

Australian captain Laura Geitz puts netball on hold to start a family

Australian Diamonds and Queensland Firebirds Captain Laura Geitz will put netball on hold after announcing that she and husband Mark are expecting their first child next March.

The two-time world champion is unavailable for selection for the upcoming Constellation Cup and will not play in the 2017 new national netball league season.

"This is incredibly exciting news for Laura and Mark, we are absolutely thrilled for them," said Diamonds Head Coach Lisa Alexander.

"Laura will always be part of our Diamonds family, and we look forward to welcoming the newest member of her family."

"On behalf of the Diamonds and support staff, we wish her all the best in this exciting phase of her life."

Geitz, who made her international debut against England in 2008, has amassed 64 Test caps for Australia, including 29 Tests as captain, with just three losses at the helm.

The defender was an integral part of Australia's 2011 World Netball Championships, and led the Diamonds to gold medals at the 2014 Commonwealth Games and Netball World Cup SYDNEY 2015.

BAD JOKE OF THE WEEK

Mr. and Mrs. Brown had two sons. One was named "Mind Your Own Business" & the other was named "Trouble".

One day the two boys decided to play hide and seek. Trouble hid while Mind Your Own Business counted to one hundred. Mind Your Own Business began looking for his brother behind garbage cans and bushes.

Then he started looking in and under cars until a police man approached him and asked, "What are you doing?"

"Playing a game," the boy replied.

"What is your name?" the officer questioned.

"Mind Your Own Business."

Furious the policeman inquired, "Are you looking for trouble?!"

The boy replied, "Why, yes."

Think FAST this Stroke Week

A staggering fifty percent of Australians don't know the signs of stroke, putting them at serious risk of disability or even death. With National Stroke Week having kicked off this Monday, the Stroke Foundation is urging Queenslanders to think FAST and learn the signs of stroke before it's too late.

Stroke Foundation Queensland Executive Officer Libby Dunstan said Stroke Week was about educating the community that speed saves when it comes to stroke.

"There will be more than 9,400 strokes in Queensland this year and sadly many people miss out on accessing life-saving treatment as they don't get to hospital on time," Ms Dunstan said.

"We want the community to be aware that stroke is always a medical emergency. When you have a stroke, your brain cells start to die at a rate of almost two million per minute.

"Being aware of the signs of stroke and knowing to call 000 as soon as it strikes is crucial in the fight against this terrible disease.

"We need all Queenslanders to get involved by helping us spread this important message this Stroke Week," she said.

Throughout this week more than 2500 activities are expected to be held around the country. Activities range from awareness morning teas, displays and talks, and health checks.

Throughout the week, all Queensland locals are encouraged to:

- Organise an awareness activity
- Fundraise for the Stroke Foundation
- Host a health check

Ms Dunstan said research has shown the stakes are high and that even a fifteen minute delay in accessing treatment can rob stroke survivors of a month of healthy life.

"With the community's support we want to send a vital message to all Queenslanders this Stroke Week: act FAST if you think you or a loved one is having a stroke," Ms Dunstan said.

"Too many locals are unaware that a speedy reaction to stroke could mean the difference between life and death.

"Stroke doesn't have to be a death sentence, it is treatable but people need to know the signs of stroke and get to hospital fast.

"This Stroke Week we are encouraging community members to get involved and help us spread this life-saving message.

"It is all about bringing people together to have fun, while raising awareness of stroke."

Think FAST this National Stroke Week and raise awareness of stroke. Find out more at www.strokefoundation.com.au.

National Stroke Week runs from September 12 to 18. It is an annual event which aims to raise the awareness of stroke within the community and encourage Australians to take action to prevent stroke.

Pigeons Galore

The skies around Allora and Warwick will be alive with pigeons as the birds released by members of the Warwick/Allora Pigeon Club return from being released at Morven in western Queensland. The Breeders Plate Race will see 35 pigeons travel 483 kilometres as they return to their lofts today. Two members of the club who will be scanning the skies for the return of their birds will be Ruth Turner and Grant Lollback. Club spokesman, Grant Lollback, said that pigeon racing was a sport where all the birds travelled in a special truck to Morven in preparation for the six to eight hour trip home. More than $2000 in prize money will be shared by the owners of the winning pigeons.

Letter from the Front

Mr. John Warfield of Hendon received a telegram from Base Records, as follows:- "Now reported your son, Private Harry Warfield, admitted Fourth Northern General Hospital with gunshot wound to leg, severe". We hope very sincerely that the news next coming to hand will be of the best. By a recent mail Mr. Warfield was in receipt of a very cheery letter from his son, Harry, who it appears had been appointed honorary secretary to the brothers (four, including himself). He has several times tried to resign his position, being of the opinion that other members of the firm should undertake the burden of correspondence occasionally, but up to the time of writing they had firmly declined to accept his resignation. However, he fulfils the duties admirably, and his last letter is full of interesting items. He mentions having come across another old Talgai lad, Dick Martin, and had also seen Charlie Sanderson several times. From every point of view he compares France very favourably to Egypt, of which he entertains no pleasant recollections. (Harry Warfield was returned to Australia in 1917 as were his brothers Herbert and Sid at the end of the war. Sergeant John Warfield was killed in action in France in 1918).

The lively gathering was keen to see a new wave of events put forward for the coming year.

At this meeting the previous office bearers retired and the new executive elected as follows: President Joan Barnett; Vice-President Sharlene Gladman; and Secretary/Treasurer Kathy Shannon.

It was unanimously agreed that various new activities be investigated with a view to increasing membership and creating greater interest in the association.

Items discussed included Bingo, Bus Trips, Musical Mornings, etc.

Meetings will now be held on alternate months, on the afternoons of fourth Fridays, commencing on 28th October.

Cards are still played regularly on Mondays and Fridays commencing at 1 p.m. There is also a group playing six-hand euchre on the fourth Tuesday each month. For more information and enquiries telephone Kathy on 4666 3286.

GOLF

Allora Golf Notes

Friday, 9th - Due to the wet weather our Duckrun comp was called off.

Sunday, 11th - We played a Single stableford comp with prizes kindly donated by Tom Brown and Cultural Heritage Management Australia a Tasmanian based archaeological consultancy group. With plenty of prizes on offer and in some great conditions it looked like some great scores would come in so the pins were relocated in some interesting locations.

With some great play the winner on count back was Kev Harrison on 40 pts, Kev is in a purple patch at the moment and playing some outstanding golf. The runner up was Barry Brown Jnr who is also playing some great golf. Rundown winners were Garth Simpson with 39pts and Matt May with 38 pts. Congratulations to the winners.

Pin prizes were on for the 4th with Garth claiming that one, Kev Harrison got the 13th, Phil took the 7th, no one got the 16th, Barry Brown Jnr held onto the 8th and Aaron Simpson went home with the 17th. Long drive winners were Aaron Simpson on the 5th and Garth Simpson for the 14th. Approach prizes for the 2nd went to John Ellwood, 11th didn't go off Aaron Simpson took the 3rd and Matt May got both the 12th and 9th with the 18th unclaimed.

Ladies Approach for the 1st and 10th weren't taken and the 'Bradman' award winner with a score of 20pts was Neil Ellwood. Congratulations to the winners and all players and thank you for the Tom Brown and Cultural Heritage Management Australia (CHMA) for the kind donations, thank you to our workers for their hard work you all do.

Next week a number of members will be traveling to Inglewood for their Open day. Some of our members have been winners at various clubs for their Open days over the year and here's hoping this continues.

Friday, 16th - Our Duckrun competition will be teeing from 2.30pm, all welcome to attend then Sunday, 18th, our Monthly Medal will be on offer, all players and visitors welcome to attend teeing from 11.30am, but dont forget your sandbuckets and great golfing to you all.

Allora Pony Club Notes

At the recent Cambooya Gymkhana our young Allora riders acquitted themselves very well for a small team, right from the march-past onward.

The little contingent of three consisted of - Shelby Turk, Amy Morris and Sarah Morris.

Shelby handled herself and her smart pony in a very competent manner and was placed among the trophy winners in her class. Amy and Sarah rode in the beginners lead-in events as it was only their second attendance at gymkhanas. However, they both showed such improvement that they completed some of their events off-rein; they were very pleased with their ponies' performance.

Perhaps we'll be seeing a lot more of these youngsters making up a proud Allora team of the future.

Council appoints new Advisory Committee members

At a special meeting held last week, Southern Downs Regional Council has appointed a number of community representatives to its eight Council Advisory Committees. Council called for expressions of interest in August from persons, including those aged 25 years or less, to become community representatives on the Advisory Committees following the adoption of a new Advisory Committee Policy and Terms of Reference for the eight committees. Southern Downs Mayor Tracy Dobie said Council was heartened by the overwhelming number of expressions of interest received from community members across the region. "There was a terrific response from the community to the expressions of interest process. "I think this is testament to the interest and enthusiasm in the community to engage with Council on matters of importance to them, and to bring their experience and knowledge to the table. "Council sees the Advisory Committees, and their members, as crucial cogs in the wheels of our local government," she said. The role of the Advisory Committees is to provide strategic rather than operational advice to Council, and the advice should be in relation to the entire region. Advice provided through Advisory Committees will be reported back to Council through the Minutes of each committee. The Mayor added that each of the Advisory Committees will revisit their Terms of Reference at their inaugural meeting and work towards creating a vibrant vision and strategy for each of the areas they manage. "Advisory Committee members will be asked to think of the future and the important role Council can play in meeting the needs of new communities, as well as planning for critical infrastructure. "I would like to thank sincerely, all those community members who took the time to submit their interest, and on behalf of

Allora Sports Club – Night Bowls Results – Week Two

Ever watched a bowler after they deliver, their body moves either left or right to match the bias of their bowl. Well that is the way with most bowlers, but look around the Allora bowling green and you see arm flapping, jumping up and down and a new movement – twerking. New bowler Alana gave us an excellent example.

Great to see new team Maydan (Rusty, Alana and Bryce), putting down some great shots. Skip, Rusty had us calling in the experts to adjudicate on two occasions. One end was ruled a non-event after Rusty's bowl and the jack end up out of play, although we did concede that he had a toucher. He other winning 'smash' won his team 5 points!

Results of play – Honda Hawks 12 v Zoolanders 11; Lawn Grubs 13 v Roonicks 11; The Three Amigos 21 v Team Engel 3; The Old Boys 13 v Doesn't Matter 9; Frog and Swallow 17 v Riches Rat Bags 8; The Men's Shed 9 v Maydan 7; Railway Hotel 14 v Swimming Pool 13

This week Rink 1 was the lucky rink. Honda Hawks won the winner's prize and Zoolanders were runners-up. Six Packs all round.

Lucky raffle prize winners were Dennis Allen, Beetle, SLUG, Barry Donegan. Rusty, Ashleigh and John Cochran had a chance to cut the cards. No luck there and the Jackpot next week is $60.00.

Lucky toucher winners were Tom Bazley, Aaron Simpson, Tim Hentschell, John Cochran, Russel Mc. M and Paul Parker. Thank you to sponsors Allora Sports Club, Railway Hotel, Swimming Pool, True Value Hardware, Frog and Swallow, Paul Parker, Painter and I.G.A.
