Anzacs remembered in services across the Southern Downs

ANZAC Day remembrance ceremonies will be held throughout the Southern Downs region on Tuesday, 25 April 2017.

Commemorative services have seen increased support in recent years and participating in these special services is of great personal importance to Southern Downs Mayor Tracy Dobie, who served in the Australian Army.

"I'm very proud to see the community take the time to commemorate our diggers at ANZAC Day services across the region.

"ANZAC Day is a significant time to reflect on the 1915 Gallipoli landing and those brave souls who died in the service of their country.

"However, it is equally important to remember the sacrifices made by servicemen and women who have died during their service in the years since," she said.

Cr Dobie highlighted that numerous services have been organised throughout the region by the Returned Services League, the Veteran Services & Advocacy Services Australia and Southern Downs Regional Council, to enable all community members the flexibility to select a service that best suits their timetable.

"The customary services are being held, including dawn services in Warwick and Stanthorpe, ceremonies at the War Graves Cemetery and Eden Gardens Memorial Park, and a march before the 11am service at the Cenotaph in Leslie Park. "A similar program of ANZAC Day services has been arranged for the Stanthorpe community, beginning with the dawn service, the parade, and the civil service again being held at the Stanthorpe RSL Club.

"Services will also be held in many of the smaller communities around the Southern Downs region including Allora, Killarney, Tannymorel, Yangan, Emu Vale, Leyburn, Pratten and Wallangarra.

"I am honoured to take part in services dedicated to those who demonstrated qualities of endurance, courage and comradery, and I would encourage residents to support these events.

"These ceremonies are also an important way to include our young people, to ensure that the legend and the spirit of ANZAC continue to resonate for future generations," said Cr Dobie.

Project Knockers

Knockers! That might sound somewhat naughty... but far from it. Rather, it is a word that in this case, brings to mind compassion, kindness and comfort for those in pain. Some members of the Allora Arts & Crafts Group are gifted knitters and, hearing of a charity's novel idea to help women with breast cancer, they picked up their knitting needles and got to work. The result was Knockers - a soft non irritant padding for women who, because of cancer have had mastectomies. These operations leave scarring which can be very sensitive. The knockers are knitted in a very soft textured cotton yarn and are designed to fit inside a bra and not irritate the sensitive post operative skin. They are not only designed to give women back their self confidence, but to do it with gentle, soft comfort. The Allora knitters produce the knockers (in all sizes) and send

Alvis 2017 National Tour

Warwick, Queensland. Sunday, May 7 to Saturday, May 13.

The Alvis Motor company started in 1918 and closed the doors in 1968 after producing almost 22,000 cars. Every two years a group of owners gather for a National Rally in a different state. This year is Queensland's turn and as there is no Alvis Club in Queensland it is run under the auspices of the VCCQ. Warwick was selected as the venue because of easy access from the south, the history, and the beautiful surrounding driving country. Next year the rally will celebrate the Centenary of the Alvis Motor Company and a big rally will be held in NSW.

The committee for this years event are delighted with the help and response they have had from everyone that has been approached in Warwick. We believe this years event will showcase what the town and surrounding countryside has to offer.

Cars will begin arriving from Sunday and will head for a different destination each day from Allora to Stanthorpe, returning to the Coachman's Motel each night. About 40 cars are registered from all states except WA. We will leave for home on the following Saturday.

We hope some of the local people will come to Leslie Park on the Monday to inspect our wonderful cars. The Town Crier will be taking us on a guided walk around the historic sites before the Lady Mayor, Tracy Dobie, officially welcomes our members. Below is the programme we will be following for the week. Maybe you can catch up with us somewhere along the route.

SUNDAY 7. Welcome to Queensland.

Arrive at the Coachman's Motel after 2pm.

MONDAY 8. Relax around town. Static display.

9.30am. Arrive at Leslie Park in the centre of Warwick for a static display. All cars in place by 10am.

2.35pm. Visit Warwick Historical Society on the way back to motel - in Dragon Street 600 metres from motel.

TUESDAY 9. Stanthorpe wine belt visit.

8.30am. Depart and travel towards Stanthorpe via the Old Stanthorpe Road. Visit and lap Morgan Park racetrack.

10.00am. Arrive at LAWDOGS for demonstration and morning tea.

11.30am. Leave and travel via Stanthorpe and Storm King Dam to lunch, passing several wineries on the way. This area produces some of the best wines on the granite belt.

12.15pm. Lunch and wine tasting at Ballandean Winery.

2.00pm. Heading north for home arrive at Jamworks, Anna's Candleworks and Wickerman Winery (all next door to each other) and David Ford's restoration business.

WEDNESDAY 10. Coach House, Golf Club, Rodeo.

10.00am. Arrive at local property to view sulky, coach and wagon collection. Morning coffee in their scenic garden.

12 noon. Lunch at the Warwick Golf Club with bush poet on hand.

3.00pm. Rodeo Centre for bull riding display by local school children. No bulls will be hurt in this event. Afternoon tea.

THURSDAY 11. Steam Train to Clifton.

12 noon. Lunch in the Clifton Arms.

7.00pm. Themed dinner "BUSHIE" (Cowboy, squatter, swaggie, blacksmith etc.)

FRIDAY 12. Allora, Killarney, Queen Mary Falls.

9.00am. Head north to the small country town of Allora. Visit Mary Poppins house, sports museum, vintage car collection and Blue Cow pub before leaving on a scenic drive in the country to Killarney for lunch.

After lunch you can head for home, or drive to Queen Mary Falls, then home or on to Carr's Lookout and Spring Creek cafe and cottages.

This is the headwater of the Condamine River which flows eventually to Adelaide. The walk into the Falls is easy and takes about 10mins. max. There is also a small museum in Killarney, next to the pub, which is well worth a look. Open 1-3pm.

6.00pm. Pre dinner drink in motel bar.

7.00pm. Final Dinner at motel.

SATURDAY 13. Home - bugger!

Goomburra Bush Fair

The Goomburra Bush Fair held on the weekend was a huge success. The Goomburra Gallop, a 15.6 km run from the fertilizer depot at Allora to the Goomburra Hall, was won by a Toowoomba runner in the time of 59 minutes 7 seconds. The first local home in the Gallop was Warren Wright of Goomburra. Catherine McGrath of Berat was the first local female home. The sheaf pitching contest was won by John Maher of Wildash, with his wife Judy taking out the women's event. Tony Gilmore and Des Thompson of Goomburra won some of the other sheaf pitching events.

Recruiting Rally

Cr. James Dean (Chairman of the Allora Shire Council) presided over a recruiting rally in the Protestant Hall on Tuesday evening last. The seating accommodation was taxed to the utmost. The chairman introduced the speakers, Corporal and Mrs Campbell. In the course of his remarks Cr. Dean stated that the district had done well in the matter of recruits, having sent 205 since the war began out of an estimated population of approximately 2000, and contributed about £3000 to patriotic efforts. Corporal and Mrs. Campbell both delivered stirring addresses and at the conclusion, one member of the audience enlisted. Welcome Home

Mr. H. Marden presided over a welcome arranged by the residents of Hendon, and friends of Private Harry Warfield at Hendon on Tuesday night. There was a large attendance and the returned soldier was the recipient of many hearty greetings. The evening was spent in harmony and song, and during a suitable interval the chairman presented the guest of the evening with a handsome gift on behalf of the residents. Private H. Warfield is one of four sons of Mr. J. Warfield of Hendon who have given their service to their country. His other three brothers are still serving somewhere in France.

Allora CWA Notes

The Allora CWA had its monthly meeting with a reduced attendance today but there was a lot of discussion. Unfortunately cyclone Debbie caused the postponement of the International Day event after a lot of work planning and setting up. Several members and many of the guests were unable to get in and the guest speaker had to return to Brisbane early to avoid being caught here so we are sorry for any inconvenience caused and we will reschedule the event hopefully next month. However Mary Schelbach was able to complete the money board and the lucky winners were 1st John Ryan 2nd Kerri Lewes and 3rd Clarrie Pidgeon. Thank you Mary. Thank you also to the family members who kindly helped with the record rapid dismantling on Saturday morning. The competitions were shifted to the rooms on April 7 and a morning tea was enjoyed which included some of the winning cake. There was a very good entry in the photography section and the Warwick judge was very complimentary. Arleen Breeze judged the floral art and shared some tips with the competitors. The winners will now compete in Killarney in May against the rest of Border Division.

Members again agreed to help the RSL with cooking for Anzac Day.

Allora CWA will be involved in the Allora Autumn festival this year opening the rooms on Saturday and Sunday to provide sandwiches, scones, cakes and tea or coffee. Visitors can takeaway or sit down in the rooms and rest their feet while enjoying their tea. The rooms will be decorated for the occasion with CWA memorabilia.

Country Kitchens workshops will begin on May 20 with three sessions held monthly at the rooms and open to anyone in the community. Those interested should book a place with Sharon Hannah on 46662197 or Alison Payne on 46661542 as there is a limit. The cost is $50 for 3 sessions and includes an apron, tea towel, notebook and recipes as well as morning teas and lunches.

this year, along with the rest of Queensland. Southern Downs Regional Council's Manager Environmental Services, Tim O'Brien said residents also are encouraged to clean up their sheds and garages and register for the collection. "As chemicals cannot be accepted at waste facilities in the Southern Downs, ChemClear is a great way for residents to be able to dispose of any unwanted agricultural and veterinary chemicals.

"In particular, unlabelled, unregistered or unknown chemicals can be accepted, so I would encourage you to take-up this opportunity, and have a clean-up of chemicals lying around your property," he said.

Chemicals can become unwanted in a number of ways. Property owners may inherit chemicals when they buy land; others switch crops, while some buy specific-use chemicals to manage one-off pest events.

National ChemClear Manager, Lisa Nixon, encourages farmers to take an inventory to register for the program.

"The easiest way to get organised is to head out to your sheds with pen and paper in hand, take an inventory of all the surplus and unknown chemicals, then contact ChemClear or head to our online registration portal and register them for the June collection," she said.

When taking an inventory ChemClear suggests including the name of the product, the manufacturer, the size of the container and the remaining quantity in the container, to simplify registration.

Chemical containers displaying the drumMUSTER logo are eligible for free collection and known as Group 1 chemicals.

Agvet chemical containers without the logo or are unlabelled, expired, mixed or from non-participating manufacturers, are designated Group 2 products, incurring a per lt/kg fee for disposal. A quote will be provided when booking Group 2 chemicals.

ChemClear is an end-of-life product stewardship program fostered by Agsafe for the safe disposal of agvet chemicals.

Register unwanted agvet chemicals online at www.chemclear.org.au or phone 1800 008 182.

Heritage Week In Allora

During Heritage Week this year, the Allora Historical Society is featuring items from their collection that were made in Allora. The items range from machinery, goods and tools made by saddlers, plumbers and blacksmiths, handmade clothing including baby wear, under garments, wedding dresses, embroidered doilies, craft and artworks.

Jon Constable has generously lent us his chemist shop window to display some of the items. Our model Cloe is dressed in an exquisite embroidered chamois and bloomers. We have placed a doll dressed in beautiful baby clothes in the homemade high chair that was made by John (Toby) Mason for his children. The highchair was passed down the family then donated to the Historical Society by Trevor and Shirley Mason. A leather bag, made by William Burge, saddler who came to Allora in 1871, was recently donated by his great-granddaughter Lynelle Fenner. The bag bears his signature. An interesting item in the display is the sundial made by Henry Ludgate. An Irishman who came to Australia aged 24, Henry joined the police force. He served throughout the Downs including Allora. He retired to Allora where he became a representative of the Allora Municipal Council then served as Mayor in 1902 and 1909. Henry was interested in astronomy. He was secretary of the School of Arts when the Allora Court House building was purchased and moved to the present site in Drayton Street. (Now the museum). A collection of embroidery stitched by Dorrie Byrne can be viewed as well along with homemade toys, a painting of St. David's Church and a hand sewn quilt. The oldest item on display in the window is a sewing machine of cedar timber, made for Mary Gordon. Mary left Ireland in 1855 with her husband Samuel and three young children, leaving one son behind as he was sick. (Andrew Gordon was later bought out to Australia with his uncles). Mary was a beautiful seamstress. The Historical Society has Mary's 'sampler book' from Ireland and the wedding dress she made for her daughter, Sarah Eleanor on display in the 'School of Arts' museum, Drayton Street.

Visitors to the museum during the Allora Autumn Festival weekend (29th & 30th April) will be able to view and learn the history of the manufacture of two unique items machinery in the Allora Historical Society's collection. Rickert's corn thresher and Lumsden's corn planter will be displayed in a prominent position for inspection.

The Allora Historical Society has a collection of diaries, recollections and articles written for local newspapers. These give the reader a great insight into a time now past. The 'researcher' in many local families have compiled and published books. We have a very comprehensive collection of these family history books available for interested visitors to peruse. We have a number of books for sale that were written by people from the district which include books on Goomburra, Talgai, Spring Creek and Back Plains. 'Allora's Past', 'Heritage Trail', The Sparksman Family History and book of poetry written by Lawrie Herron are on sale along with military books, 'Salute to the Fallen', 'Through My Eyes' and 'Keeping Their Memory Alive'. Post cards featuring the pen & ink drawings of the late Gwen Gilliam are available as a keepsake of Allora's historic buildings.

Museums will be open from 10am to 12noon and 1pm to 3pm on Saturday 29th April & 9am to 4pm on Sunday 30th during the Allora Autumn Festival.
