Australian Stock Horse Society Campdraft

The Eastern Downs Branch of the Australian Stock Horse Society ran their annual Futurity, Maturity, Challenges and Campdraft on the weekend of 26th & 27th May at the Allora Showgrounds. The Branch welcomed competitors from Northern NSW, Scenic Rim, Moreton and Darling Downs, along with local riders to show their Australian Stock Horses. It was a full 2-day program, with Saturday starting on Led classes and Youth events, followed by Working and Utility classes for the different age groups. Sunday morning saw an early start with cattle work and the campdraft events, for both children and adults, on the new crusher dust arena, while an Encouragement

Challenge took place on the grass arena. The most successful rider for the Futurity was Beaudesert local, Brett Welsh, who won each of the 2, 3 and 4 year old futurities as well as the Pursehouse Rural Open Challenge. Brett was also the winner of the Maiden Campdraft on Sunday and his wife, Mel, took out first place in the Senior Hack Challenge. Local rider Kira Holmes took out the award for most successful Eastern Downs Branch member, after placing 4th in the Youth Challenge for 13 & under 17 year olds on her mare Coteeda Ima Eclipse and also placing a very creditable 8th out of 22 competitors in the Open Challenge, including winning the Cattle Working section of the Open Challenge. Many of the other entrants in the Open Challenge were seasoned Australian Stock Horse Society members who regularly compete at a National Level. Kira also won the Youth Judging competition for her age group and on her other mount, Woolerina Lego, won the Gordon Country Juvenile Campdraft.

Another local rider to do well in the Open Challenge was Glenn Evans, who placed equal 3rd riding the stallion, Kirkbys Stud Credit, owned by Dan and Jenny Redgen of Braeview Stud, Warwick. Local campdraft enthusiast Sam Campbell and the mare, The Braes Mudginberri Music, placed equal 2nd in the Novice Campdraft and took home the trophy bridle made by Branch member, Arthur Crumblin, for the highest placed Australian Stock Horse. Sam and wife Sarah, along with Sarah's parents, Ian and Sue Gordon, are regular supporters and sponsors of local campdraft events, this year sponsoring both the Junior and Juvenile Campdrafts. Several ASH Branches in SE Qld run annual Futurities, but cattle are not always available for their events and the opportunity to work stock was greatly appreciated by all who attended, especially considering the lack of rainfall we've received over the past months. A big thank you must go to our local producers who very generously lent valuable cattle, including Damien & Leonie McMahon, Dennis Middleton, Phillip Christensen, Neil & Robyn Phelan and Hugh & Shelly Barnet. The Eastern Downs Branch would also like to acknowledge the support given by the Southern Downs Regional Council to enable the purchase of a shipping container for the storage of Branch equipment through the Council's Sport and Recreation Grants. Delivery was organised just prior to the weekend events and at the end of competition on Sunday, Branch members were able to pack away gear into the new container.

Cemetery Shelter Shed

The Southern Downs Regional Council has engaged a heritage consultant to report on the ongoing maintenance requirements of the shelter shed at the Allora cemetery. Recently a delegation from the Allora and District Historical Society met with Ben Gall (Australia Heritage Specialist) and his assistant Gemma, Brian Weeks (Maintenance Overseer

S.D.R.C.) and S.D.R.C. staff member Carol Morris to outline their views on the significance of the building. The shelter shed was built with a bequest of £800 in the will of William Mitchner who died on the 1st June 1918. £150 of the money was to be invested by the Cemetery Trustees (then the Allora Shire Council) for the ongoing maintenance of the shed. The

Looking Back...

William Mitchner

William Mitchner was born possibly Wilhelm Maichsner in Lewin, Germany, on the 2nd August 1841. He came to Australia in about 1872 and was employed as engine driver in Francis Kates' flour mill in Drayton Street in Allora. He left to go tin mining at Stanthorpe before returning to Allora to lease Francis Kates' general store on the Drayton and Herbert Streets corner. He accumulated a great deal of wealth in his lifetime and at the time of his death on the 1st June 1918 his estate was valued at over £37,000 (about $3,000,000 in today's values). Hubert Deacon, auctioneer and commission agent of Allora, and the Union Trustee Company were named as joint executors of his estate. William Mitchner had a reputation of being very tight fisted and hard to deal with. After his death in the Wilga Private Hospital in Toowoomba, the matron wrote to Hubert Deacon suggesting that the £13 petty cash left at the hospital be divided up amongst the nurses in view of the hard time that he had given them. Hubert was sympathetic to the request because he had done a great deal of unpaid work in helping draw up the will and administering Mitchner's affairs while he was in hospital but the Union Trustee Company said that the money should be paid into the estate. William Mitchner left instructions that his body be embalmed but this was not carried out. If he died in Allora he was to be buried in the Allora cemetery but if he died elsewhere he was to be buried in Warwick. In his will he left his share holdings to the Toowoomba General Hospital and the Warwick Hospital. He left £1,500 to the Warwick cemetery for a shelter shed to be built in his memory and £800 to the Allora cemetery for the same purpose. He left £200 to be invested for 50 years and the interest to be divided between the Catholic Church and the Church of England in Warwick. £100 was left to the two churches in Allora on the same conditions.

Mitchner's will provided £750 for the building of a stone or brick Church of England at Hendon. As this was not sufficient money for the purpose, and there was no call for a church at Hendon, the money was held in trust. In the 1990's the money was finally released to be used for the maintenance of St. David's Church in Allora. Hubert Deacon was left Mitchner's fire-proof safe, kitchen table and use of his Allora house for twelve months. The balance of the estate (about £27,000) was left for charitable purpose in Mitchner's home town of Lewin in Germany. This was to be administered by Ferdinand Tautz, parish priest and police magistrate in Lewin. Ferdinand Tautz, the illegitimate half brother of William Mitchner was to receive, with his wife and son, £600 personally. William Mitchner had rental properties in Allora, Warwick and Toowoomba and held nearly £13,000 in mortgages. One of the mortgages that he held was over the Railway Hotel at Hendon occupied by Mrs. Sarah Neylan. Daniel Neylan had died from the effects of excessive alcohol consumption in 1882 leaving her a widow at 33. Daniel's will stated that she could not inherit the hotel if she remarried a Protestant, effectively holding it in trust until she died. "Widow" Neylan mortgaged the hotel to William Mitchner for nearly £1,000. In Hubert Deacon's opinion he took advantage of her lack of business knowledge. Nearly every Friday he would return to Hendon on the train from inspecting his Warwick properties. He would have his evening meal at the hotel, stay overnight and return to Allora after breakfast. Mrs. Neylan did not pay monetary interest on the mortgage but anticipated being remembered in Mitchner's will. When she found out that

The ceramic bust of William Mitchner created by Yvette Burge at the Allora cemetery. she wasn't she sent a bill to the executors for £390 being for 5/- a week board and lodgings for 30 years. The executors rejected the claim although Hubert Deacon thought that she had been badly treated. Probate of the will was granted on 2/8/1919 although appeals to the Queensland Supreme Court and the High Court of Australia over the validity of some of the bequests caused the executors to be still administering parts of the estate in 1928, ten years after William Mitchner's death. Court and legal fees consumed a fair portion of the estate.,

building was to include a belfry and bell which was to be rung on the approach of funeral processions. In addition, a plaster bust of William Mitchner was to be installed with the sign "This shelter shed is the gift of William Mitchner, for the benefit of the Public. Born August 2nd 1841. Died 1st June 1918." Because of the time of his death and his German background it was to be nearly 10 years and several cases before the Supreme Court before William Mitchner's estate was finalised. At a poorly attended public meeting in February 1920 it was moved by William Burge that the money not be accepted to build the shelter shed. This

GROUNDWATER PURCHASE TENDER Queensland Upper Condamine Alluvium —Call for tenders

The first submission period for the purchase tender has now closed.

The second submission period will close at 3 pm AEST, 28 June 2018.

The third and final submission period will close at 3 pm AEST, 31 July 2018.

Offers will be considered from groundwater licence holders within the following regions:

- Central Condamine Alluvium Groundwater Management Area
- Dalrymple Creek Alluvium Groundwater Management Area
- Oakey Creek Groundwater Management Area.

Assessment of offers will be undertaken on the basis of a complete and valid tender application. Tenders will be considered and evaluated in three separate tranches during the tender period.

Tender documentation, and information on the timing of evaluation and the maximum price per megalitre the department will pay, is available at agriculture.gov.au/waterpurchasing or by calling 02 6272 2004.

was seconded by Andrew Hamilton, Allora Shire Clerk, a son-in-law of William Burge and probably a cemetery trustee. W. J. T. Neale, chairman of the Allora Shire Council, said that he was against accepting the money in any shape or form. An amendment was passed that the executors of the will be approached to cover the costs of calling tenders and preparing plans and specifications, and that another public meeting be called at a later date. In October 1925 the Allora Shire Council as Cemetery Trustees called tenders for the building of the shelter shed. During WW2, probably due to anti-German sentiment, the bust was twice maliciously removed, the second time it was not recovered. In 2004 the Allora and District Historical Society applied for a Queensland Government grant through the Regional Arts Development Fund to replace the bust. This was supported by the Warwick Shire Council. The new ceramic bust was created by Yvette Burge. To aid the planning of an ongoing maintenance program, the heritage consultant is calling for any old photos of the building to see if there have been any changes over the years. If you have any photos please contact any Historical Society member.

BAD JOKE OF THE WEEK

A nice old lady on a bus offers the driver some peanuts. He's happy to take some. He asks her after a while why she isn't having any herself.

"Oh, young man," she says, "they're too hard on my poor teeth, I couldn't."

"Why did you buy them at all then?" wonders the driver.

"You see, I just love the chocolate they're covered in!"

Shaping Southern Downs: residents to shape the region's future!

Residents are invited to take the future of the region into their own hands by sharing their vision for a bigger and better Southern Downs! Southern Downs Regional Council is looking ahead with a new plan for the future, Shaping Southern Downs, and is inviting all residents to take part in the community engagement process. Shaping Southern Downs will encourage investment in the region and aims to grow the population to 50,000. The region's growth will support a wider range of businesses, industries and services in the area and provide a range of jobs for locals and support infrastructure improvements. The plan will also form a foundation for SDRC's Corporate Plan and new Southern Downs Planning Scheme. Southern Downs Mayor, Tracy Dobie said Shaping Southern Downs is an opportunity to develop a plan for the whole region while continuing to celebrate each village and town's unique identity. "We live in a wonderful region and the Southern Downs is in an excellent position to welcome growth and population diversity given its rural lifestyle, temperate climate, existing infrastructure and connection to South East Queensland's services and facilities," Cr Dobie said. "We are a diverse region and each community is different and we want to hear from each and every town about what they want for their community that will contribute to making us who we are as the Southern Downs region." "We want to understand what people value about living in the area and their vision and aspirations for their townships and the wider region." Cr Dobie encouraged all residents to take part in the community engagement process. "Council is committed to

Dresses and models needed for Fete

The Allora-Clifton Anglican Parish is on the search for Wedding dresses and models as part of the upcoming Fete in October this year. The parade will showcase an historical collection of wedding dresses spanning from the 1930s to the current trends of today. The Fete is an annual event preceding Clifton's Country Week, which is held yearly in October. Organised by the Allora-Clifton Anglican Parish, the Fete is alternated annually between the towns' two Anglican churches. The event operates as a major fundraising tool for the church with the aims of engaging the community. In previous years the Fete has held face painting, raffles, stalls and live music for families across the region to enjoy. Wedding parade organiser Kerry Denne has urged people who are interested in not only the Fete but modelling and bridal gowns to get in touch. "At the moment we are looking for people that are interested in modelling wedding dresses of many kinds," Mrs Denne said. "We aren't looking for people with specific modelling experience, so we encourage everyone interested to get in touch with us," she said. Mrs Denne also said that the event remains a highlight on the Parish's calendar. "Every year the Parish looks forward to the event and getting the community engaged," she said. This year's event will mark the first bridal parade conducted by the Anglican Parish. "I'm really looking forward to this one in particular because we've never done something like this before." "The bridal parade will be a fantastic addition to an already spectacular event that the community can participate in," Mrs Denne said. The Fete is set to commence on 12th October in Clifton later this year. For information about the event and modelling enquiries, contact Kerry Denne on 0401 368 636. Story courtesy The Clifton Courier, 30 May 2018

Apply now for The Hon David Littleproud MP Bursary to help rural women access tertiary education

To encourage rural women to pursue further study, Maranoa MP David Littleproud has offered a $1000 bursary through the National Council of Women of Queensland (NCWQ). "I know how important it is to ensure our next generation of young women thrive and are able to access financial support while studying. I am thrilled to be part of such a great initiative," Mr Littleproud said. The Maranoa MP – who represents more than 42% of Queensland and some of the most remote communities in the state – said many students were forced to move from their local community in order to pursue further study after finishing school. "Targeting education at students is a continual effort: identifying those with the motivation to study, tracking their progress and supporting their ambitions are all important factors," he said. "This bursary is designed for a female first year, full-time student in a tertiary course, such as university, TAFE or the Conservatorium of Music. I believe it is important to support and nurture a variety of study fields." To be eligible for the bursary, applicants must also be a constituent of the Maranoa electorate, although they may have relocated for their studies. They must also be an Australian citizen or Permanent Resident of Australia. "We understand that moving out of your local community to pursue further study can be daunting and costly. That's why I think this is such a great initiative by the NCWQ," he said. "I hope to see many young people return to the bush and apply their skills in a range of different industries to grow our region. That's why I'm committed to supporting our youth and giving them every opportunity possible." Applications for The Hon. David Littleproud MP Bursary close Monday, June 4, 2018. Almost 30 bursaries are currently on offer for the 2018 NCWQ Bursary program. For more information on the NCWQ Bursary program and how to apply, check out: ncwq.org.au/bursaries-3

QBANK Launches 2018 Everyday Hero Awards

Queenslanders have a chance to recognise their local heroes with nominations now open for the 2018 QBANK Everyday Heroes Awards.

The awards, now in their fifth year, aim to honour Queensland's frontline and public service workers, as well as youth aged 17 years and under, who have gone above and beyond to help their community.

QBANK CEO Mike Currie said that he was looking forward to hearing the amazing stories of those across Queensland who have made a difference.

"We have five adult categories as well as a Young Everyday Hero Award for those aged 12-17 years of age, and it is always tough to choose just six recipients who exemplify the qualities of an everyday hero," Mr. Currie said.

"Last year we saw nominations ranging from police officers who have shown astounding courage in difficult situations, through to teenagers who have demonstrated leadership and compassion by starting social sporting groups for children with disabilities in their community.

"I am once again thrilled to hear these stories from across the state which make me proud to be a Queensland, and to be part of an organisation that looks after Queensland's everyday heroes." Seven highly respected judges from across the various sectors will select award recipients based on their proven track record of professional commitment and community dedication, commonly through fundraising and charity work, supporting the vulnerable or disadvantaged, mentoring and leadership or spreading community awareness.

Awards are presented in six categories including: Achievement, Ownership, Dedication, Working Together, Excellence and the Young Everyday Hero Award.

Winners receive prize money of $1000, with a further $1000 donated to a charity of the award recipient's choice. The Young Everyday Hero award winner will receive a $500 bursary to assist with equipment costs for their Emergency Services training participation.

To nominate someone in your community, go to: www.qbank.com.au/community-proud/everyday-heroes-awards

- Key dates:
- Nominations opened - 4 June 2018.
 - Nominations close - 5 August, 2018.
 - Finalists announced - 31 August, 2018.
 - Winners announced - 21 September, 2018.

Warriors Retain Ragh Family Trophy

It was a new look 'National Farmer's Warehouse' Wattles Warriors outfit that overwhelmed the bottom of the ladder Southern Suburbs Tigers 70 - 14 at Toowoomba's Glenholme Park on Saturday in breezy cool conditions.

The Warriors also retained the prestigious Ragh Family Trophy courtesy of the winning A & Reserve Grade results.

The trophy was presented by former Wattles player and Toowoomba & Queensland Country representative David Ragh to Wattles captain Dale Perkins.

Coach Travis Burns rested a number of his regular top graders including himself against the struggling Tigers. Tom Morris filled Burns number 6 jersey in admirable style, making his official A Grade debut after appearances in pre season trials.

Another to make his debut outside trials was Jesse Miles, the son of Wattles 1997 premiership winning captain Steve 'Skeeta' Miles.

Wattles first and reserve grade sides will enjoy a bye round this weekend, the premiership leading top graders can put their cue in the rack until June 17 when they run on at Toowoomba's Herb Steinhohrt Oval in the 2018 Madsen-Rasmussen Trophy final.

The second on the ladder Garth Lonergan & Michael Crank coached reserve graders are also in calculations for Toowoomba Rugby League Reserve Grade President's Cup final on the same program, depending on fixture results from this coming weekend.

Rated the best support player in the TRL by coach Burns, Ty Gardner posted first points in the match with a 7th minute try to have the Warriors leading 6 - 0.

Fellow forwards Dale Perkins and Jesse Miles followed suit with touchdowns to have the Warriors scoring at better than a point a minute, leading 18 - 0 after fourteen minutes.

Winger Isaac Waters scored to open the Tigers points account, and minutes later the home side added another try by hooker Angus Hearn to be back in the game trailing 10 - 18.

Any hopes the Souths supporters harboured of a boil over eroded by halftime with Wattles adding tries by wingers Blake Lollback & Braydon Wilson and back-rower Nathan Gaulton to lead 36 - 10 at half time.

Andrew Richardson scored on the end of a play of many hands in the opening minutes of the second half to ease the Warriors juggernaut in to motion for the second stanza. Quicksilver winger Braydon Wilson crossed for his tenth season try seven minutes later to add to the Warriors total, leading 46 - 10.

Souths hooker Damian Mills snared a try in the 53rd minute, the last points the home side would add in the one sided game.

When Nathan Gaulton was sin binned for striking three minutes from full time the Warriors were reduced to twelve, but the reduction had little affect on the outcome.

Wattles added another three tries to their total with Richardson completing a hat trick himself when he cruised in to touch down in the final minute of the game.

A clever tactical play by coach Burns was to move former Queensland Under 18 front-rower Will O'Gradey to halfback for the last ten minutes of the match.

Possibly the biggest Wattles halfback ever, the 187 cm tall & 115 kg O'Gradey, grand son of Allora's Don & Michelle Crawford, was sharp at the

Wattles 70 (Andrew Richardson 3, Dale Perkins 2, Braydon Wilson 2, Blake Lollback, Nathan Gaulton, Will O'Gradey, Jesse Miles, Ty Gardner tries; Matt Duggan 6, Jesse Miles 4, Andrew Richardson goals)

Souths 14 (Isaac Waters, Damian Mills, Angus Hearn tries; Jordan Lipp goal).

Reserve Grade - An overwhelming walloping of the Southern Suburbs Tigers on Saturday have Wattles 'Railway Hotel' Reserve Grade side sitting on the second rung of the Toowoomba Rugby League Toowoomba Toyota Reserve Grade premiership ladder, and in contention for a mid-season championships President's Cup berth.

The Warriors had Souths measure all over the paddock, with coaches Garth Lonergan and Michael Crank more than enthused to complete the first half of the season with a big win.

Having said that, both agree "we were very sloppy across much of the first half, we didn't pay Souths the respect they deserve as we tried to go around them two much."

Winger Jame Kedar shunted Wattles side of the scoreboard into action after just three minutes of play to lead 4 - 0, but Souths were up to the challenge when former Wattles back Brandon Nothdurft replied to have the Tigers ahead 6 - 4 by the eighth minute.

Any first half joy ended there for Souths, Wattles racking up five four-pointers by Joe Morris, Alex Morris, Matt Miedman, Garth Lonergan & Jordan Henry to lead 28 - 6 at half time.

The Tigers brought a smile to supporters faces when Darryl Hippi added a home side try five minutes after the break.

Wattles went on shut out the game very convincingly scoring seven further tries as they coasted to victory.

"We turned around of shortfalls in the second half" noted co-mentor Lonergan, "we stuck to our structure and improved our completion rate allowing us to stack on plenty of points."

Of Wattles 21 man line-up, eleven players crossed the strip for tries, co-coach & centre Lonergan nailing a hat trick and winning Player's Player honours.

Back-rower Alex Morris played his best game of the year, with his brother Jo Morris also shining in the result before running on in A Grade.

Duggan brothers Michael & Mark also impressed in there first game back from injury.

Wattles 68 (Garth Lonergan 3, Dale McAntee, James Kedar, Nick Morris, Joe Morris, Jordan Henry, Harry Shooter, Matt Wiedman, Alex Morris, Michael Crank, Tyrone Jowett tries; Dale McAntee 7, Joe Morris goals).

Souths 12 (Brandon Nothdurft, Darryl Hippi tries; Wayne Binge, Djarwyn Burns goals).

Under 18 - While the Southern Suburbs Tigers senior grade teams have sadly struggled this season, the continuing existence of the 80 year old club a significant concern, their Under 18 combination are competition front-runners.

The Tigers have eight wins from ten appearances this season to date, and are firmly perched on the third rung of the TRL Mark Phillipson Beta Electrical Premiership ladder.

 They showed the 'Wilson & Rigby Smash Repairs/Willett Electrical' Warrior's colts no mercy handing out an 84 - 12 defeat.
 At the eleven minute mark Souths were ahead 10 - 0 when Wattles talented centre Matthew Christensen scored after the ball travelled though hands wide.
 The Tigers responded with six touchdowns in a fifteen minute period to lead 42 - 4 when the halftime hooter sounded.
 Wattles had to endure another 42 points being served up in the second stanza, but

Matthew Christensen flew the green and gold flag bagging two further tries for his hat trick in the fourth and fifteenth minute after play resumed for the second half.
