Halloween Proves Popular

This year's Halloween activities in Allora have been described as the best ever with well over a hundred children (and some adults) participating. Scary costumes and painted faces were seen around the streets of Allora from late Thursday afternoon. Fun-loving residents opened their doors and supplied lollies to the excited children. All the zombies, ghosts and witches finished the evening with a barbecue at the Railway Hotel.

Remembrance Day - November 11

At 11am on 11 November 1918 the guns on the Western Front fell silent after more than four years of continuous warfare. The allied armies had driven the German invaders back, having inflicted heavy defeats upon them over the preceding four months. In November the Germans called for an armistice (suspension of fighting) in order to secure a peace settlement. They accepted allied terms that amounted to unconditional surrender.

The 11th hour of the 11th day of the 11th month attained a special significance in the post-war years. The moment when hostilities ceased on the Western Front became universally associated with the remembrance of those who had died in the war. This first modern world conflict had brought about the mobilisation of over 70 million people and left between 9 and 13 million dead, perhaps as many as one-third of them with no known grave. The allied nations chose this day and time for the commemoration of their war dead.

Seventy two men from this district died and four of these men attended Allora State School.

Members of the public are welcome to attend Remembrance Day at the Allora Cenotaph next Monday. It would be appreciated if you could arrive at 10.30am with the service at 10.45am and observe one minutes silence at 11am.

Letters to the Editor...

Dear Editor,

Water Lane is the stretch of road between Warwick & Drayton Streets. This is a LANEWAY for Workers, Suppliers and Attendees to the rear of the Shops in Herbert Street. It is NOT a highway. It is NOT a dragstrip. If you are not one of the above, please, please don't use the lane. There have been a few near misses of late.

R.N., Allora

Dear Editor,

Labor slashes $13 million from rural fires

The Palaszczuk Labor Government has been caught making a massive cut to Rural Fire Service funding in Queensland. The LNP Opposition has revealed the Rural Fire Service's funding was being slashed by $13million this financial year – a 25 per cent reduction of its 2018/19 budget.

Labor must explain why.

Given the unprecedented recent fires, you'd think it would be time to increase investment in our Rural Fire Services – not axe it by a quarter.

Labor's Emergency Services Minister claims to support rural fires when he's in the regions, but when he gets back to Brisbane he takes an axe to their budget.

This dangerous cut in Rural Fire Service funding shows that Labor doesn't care about regional Queensland.

Labor cut the number of hazard reduction burns and then blamed the bushfires on our farmers.

Blaming farmers for confusion over backburning while ignoring Labor's mismanagement of state-controlled land and national parks was a new low.

Only the LNP will deal with the bushfire threat and ensure our rural fires get the funding they need.

Allora Lights up for Christmas

As the Christmas season rockets towards us local ladies Gretta Barton and Betty-Rose Drennert are busily organising the wonderful Carols in the Country event the Allora town has grown to love. The Carols has been running since 2014 but due to previous organisers Stacey & Sarah Turner moving away and Gretta travelling overseas with her family last year the carols did not go ahead. But with much community enthusiasm and the support of the Allora Rotary Club it was decided the Carols would return in 2019 on Saturday, 14th December.

Gretta and Betty are both on the same page with what 'Carols in the Country' represents.

It is small town warmth, connecting with friends and loved ones and awakening the Christmas Spirit. It has been a trying year for our drought affected region so it is also imperative that the occasion be free for all families to attend. Local clubs and businesses will have food and drinks on offer but there is always the option of packing your own picnic and sitting back and enjoying the free entertainment from all the locals we know and love! Santa will definitely be paying us all a visit and kids must be on the look out for The Grinch!

Performers on stage for the 2017 Carols in the Country.

In order to build the town spirit leading up to the carols the organisers are running the 'Light Up for Xmas' competition! Thanks to major sponsors Murrnaji Water Drilling, $500 cash is up for grabs for the winning home!

So come on Allora, let's show everyone how it's done and light up our homes.

Call For Showgirl Entrants

Rachael Duncan was Allora's 2019 Miss Showgirl - who will be our 2020 winner?

The Allora Show Society is looking for entrants to take part in next year's competition.

It's not a beauty pageant but entrants would ideally have an awareness of the rural women's contribution and involvement in both local communities and rural Queensland. There are three sections - Juniors, Teens and Showgirl.

For information contact Lauren on 0427 630 592.

The 142nd Allora Show will be held on 7th and 8th February 2020.

Allora Police Report

by Sergeant Damian F. Grace

Allora Police have received a number of complaints of hooning recently which have been clearly identified by some of the tyre marks on the back roads to and from Allora (between Warwick and Clifton), but also including the use of unregistered trailbikes particularly about the back-Allora, Hendon and Victoria Hill areas.

While audibly and visually disturbing to the residents of the area (particularly late at night), police attention will be given to this area in the overall interests of public and road safety.

It is asked that if anyone sees this sort of activity being undertaken, or knows who it may be, that Allora Police please be contacted.

On that note, just a reiteration of Allora Police contact. Allora Station is only a two-officer station. While Officers are on-call to respond to urgent, serious and life-threatening occurrences 24 hours a day, during and in-between daily rostered shifts the station may be unattended while officers are out-and-about on jobs, performing patrols, or are off-duty.

In all serious, life threatening emergencies that are happening there-and-then, please contact "000". This will ensure a policing response.

To report a crime that has occurred or for matters that people would like Police to attend, call POLICELINK 131 444.

For appointments to see a local officer, general inquiries and all other matters that are not time-critical and able to wait until police are next on-duty or back at the station, the Allora Station number is (07) 4666 3222. An officer will call back when next at the station.

We are endeavouring to maintain set, station office-open hours at Allora, every Monday morning from 9am to 12 mid-day for general inquiries, weapons licensing and the like.

While those times are calls-for-service dependent, the station is of course open at other times when officers are on duty and at the station.

If local residents would like to pass information on anonymously regarding any suspect activity or other information, CRIME-STOPPERS can be called on 1800 333 000.

Online and Telephone Scams - It is a daily occurrence nation-wide, when people are being telephoned or contacted on-line via the internet, by scammers seeking to make easy money from the unsuspecting.

These people can be very good at what they do and are very convincing.

There are a multitude of ways these people / organisations can get access to your phone number, email address and from there, bank accounts and money if people are not careful.

It can be as simple as opening an email or link on a message from a person or company you don't know.

Three simple things to keep in mind:

1. Never give out your bank account details to an unsolicited caller or emailer.
2. Ask lots of questions of anyone who is seeking access to your computer or passwords, for money or your bank account details (and never say "Yes" if you are in anyway unsure).

3. Be very wary of persons or organisations who ask for payment via Western Union transfers or iTunes cards (they are almost always frauds).

The ways-and-means of these offences being committed are vast, growing and very difficult to keep up with.

Most often-times the scammers are overseas, with almost no way of identifying them and recovering your money.

The ACCC (Australian Competition and Consumer Commission) host a website called 'Scamwatch' that is easy to access and read for information on exactly this type of thing and how best to protect yourself against becoming a victim. This is also the means of reporting any such scam if you become a victim. Contact www.scamwatch.gov.au

Forum For Farmers Dealing With The Drought

A practical forum to be held at Felton next week should have interest to local farmers trying to work their way through the current dry climate.

A first-hand understanding of how drought can impact on people's emotional well-being, bank balances and farm paddocks has been the catalyst for a series of events organised by the Grains Research and Development Corporation

(GRDC).

Initiated by GRDC Grower Relations Manager Susan McDonnell, the events aim to deliver practical advice ranging from how to talk about debt with your bank manager, to accessing government services and identifying and supporting mental health issues.

A grain grower herself, Mrs McDonnell said the GRDC Dealing with the Dry forums were about reminding people in regional and rural communities across NSW and Queensland that 'we are all in this together'.

"Unfortunately, like many people living in the bush, I know how tough the situation is. It can be extremely demoralising and leave you wondering how you will get through, both from a financial and psychological perspective," she said.

"We have invited experienced local farm advisers to each event to be part of this session so that we are hearing realistic options for local conditions," Mrs McDonnell said.

The free-of-charge GRDC Dealing with Dry forums are open to growers, farm advisers, community members and industry stakeholders.

The Felton forum will be held at the local community hall on Tuesday next, 12th November, from 1pm to 4pm.

For more information or to RSVP contact mikala.dickie@seftons.com.au

2020 Australia Day Awards Nominations Open

The region's most deserving citizens will be recognised at the annual Australia Day Awards, and Southern Downs Regional Council is inviting the community to submit nominations.

Council will once again support local community service groups to host community-based Australia Day events with their own awards for local citizens.

Nominations are now open for Southern Downs Citizen of the Year and Southern Downs Youth Citizen of the Year, and the winners will be announced in the lead up to Australia Day 2020.

Southern Downs Mayor Tracy Dobie said now was the time for residents to show their appreciation for those tireless and worthy members of the Southern Downs community and nominate them for one of these awards.

"Some of our hardest working members of the community fly under the radar, and these awards are an opportunity to let them know their work is appreciated," Cr Dobie said.

"Have a look around at the people in your circles and you'll see that someone who will be a worthy Southern Downs Citizen or Youth Citizen of the Year."

This year 19 locals were nominated for the Australia Day recognition, and winners Nancy De Prada and Grace Quach accepted their respective awards at an Australia Day breakfast hosted by local Lions and Rotary groups.

Council will also host citizenship ceremonies in Warwick and Stanthorpe on 26 January 2020 for those residents who are becoming new Australians.

Nomination forms can be found on the homepage at www.sdrc.qld.gov.au or at either of Council's Customer Service Centres in Warwick and Stanthorpe.

Nominations will close at 5pm on Friday 29 November 2019.

More Drownings

Allora lost one of its most prominent citizens of the time when Alexander Cameron drowned in Dalrymple Creek on the 8th July 1882. He had been appointed the first Town Clerk in 1869 and held the position until his untimely death. Alexander Cameron was last seen leaving Patrick Cranitch's Criterion Hotel at 10.40 p.m. on the Saturday night walking toward his home next to St. David's Church. He had been conducting business on behalf of the Central Downs Agricultural and Horticultural Association of which he was the secretary. It had been a stormy and windy night but no alarm was raised until the Monday morning when his hat was found on the steep creek bank opposite the Princess of Wales Hotel. The deep hole was dragged but it wasn't until children returning from Sunday school who had kicked the hat around in fun were questioned, that the body was located. On his body was found upwards of £40, the property of the C.D.A. & H. Assn. Alexander Cameron was a man of about 40 years of age and left a wife and seven children.

John Morrow, the brother of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church minister, Rev. James Morrow, opened a new baker's shop in Herbert Street in 1890. He rented a paddock on Dalrymple Creek towards Goomburra and on the 6th April 1891, taking his morning tea, rode there to fix a fence. When he didn't return, his brother rode up and found the tea making ingredients, his coat and hat on the table of the hut, and on looking further found the billy on the steep creek bank. John Morrow had taken a bad fall from his horse a few days previously and suffered head injuries. An inquest found that he had collapsed and fallen into the creek and drowned. He left a wife and five small children. Two and a half years later the Rev. James Morrow suffered a nervous breakdown and died in Brisbane leaving his wife and three small children.

Jimmy Rooney, one of Allora's characters, drowned in Dalrymple Creek on the 21st February, 1901. Spencer Briggs tells an amusing story about having to lead Jimmy home one night and he kept stopping to hug his horse. When Mrs. Rooney heard them coming, she put out a light and Jim was so pleased that he sang about Polly Perkins for the rest of the way home. Jim Rooney was a man nearly 70 years of age with no children. He was last seen alive in the town about 11 p.m. one very dark night. His hat and coat were found on the creek bank the next morning and the police recovered his body close to the bridge. His tracks clearly showed that he had missed the bridge by about 10 yards and fallen down the steep bank into the creek.

Sarah Clarke, licensee of the Princess of Wales Hotel, reported one of her boarders, William Thomas missing on Friday 21st October 1906 having last seen him the previous day. William was a married man of 71 years of age but his wife had left him because of his ill treatment of her and heavy drinking. They had had fourteen children, nine of whom were still living. His hat, coat, knife, tobacco and pipe were found neatly placed on the creek bank and the police commenced dragging operations. William Thomas's body was found floating the following day. His wife gave evidence to an inquest that he had twice before tried to take his own life with doses of laudanum. Nearly thirteen year old Colin Cunningham, the younger son of Arthur and Daisy Cunningham, drowned in Dalrymple Creek on the 29th January 1927. Colin, with his elder brother George and a friend were walking along the creek bank watching the high water and a toy sailing boat, when he fell into deep water below Burge's Saddlery. George jumped into the water to try to save him but not being able to swim himself, nearly drowned in the attempt. Within half an hour there were 30 swimmers in the water trying to find the body. After the water had fallen somewhat, a chain of 70 men was formed to search the creek, and Colin's body was found in comparatively shallow water about a mile from where he fell in.

Olive Celebrates 80th Birthday

Thanks to all who came to my party, especially my family who worked hard to make the day a success. Some came long distances.

I've always been lucky. I was born in Taroom where my mother was born. I'm lucky to fall into a wonderful family. We had a great childhood. We had nothing but we didn't know we were poor. We had fun. I was lucky to find a life's mate who could put up with me. We have been married for 56 years and live less than a kilometre from where Ray was reared. Over the years I've had a few health issues but I'm lucky because I still wake up each morning. Hey! I never dreamed I'd live to be 80.

You know it isn't much different being old as being young.

That is ... only for bedtime. When I was a child I'd get ready for bed, hop into my pyjamas and kiss my mother and father, then straight to bed.

Now it's different. The old knees ache and have to be rubbed. Teeth come out and have to be cleaned. Off come the eye glasses, and then the hearing aids land on the table. Might as well rub a bit of hand cream on. Make sure tablets are taken and a shot of insulin. One last trip to the loo and we're getting closer to the bedroom. Then it's goodnight to my loved one. No! Being old is not much different to being young. I've got so much to be thankful for and I'm grateful to God for that. Thank you to my wonderful family and all relations and friends. You have enhanced my life with your loving ways and I cherish you all.

Council to test emergency warning sirens in Killarney

Southern Downs Regional Council will conduct annual testing of its Flood Emergency Warning Systems at Killarney this Saturday 9th November.

SDRC Local Disaster Coordinator, David Keenan said the alarm testing would be held between 10am to 12noon in Killarney in conjunction with the Killarney Emergency Services Day Pop-Up Event.

The siren systems are fixed sirens and are used to alert residents of an impending flood that may directly affect the community.

The sirens are audible for between 915 metres and 1,280 metres depending on weather conditions.

During the testing on Saturday, residents will hear the following pre-recorded test message:

Attention. Attention. This is a test of the public warning system. I repeat this is only a test.

Residents will hear a wailing tone similar to that of a commercial fire alarm.

Council emphasises to Killarney residents that the activation of the test message does not imply that the townships are under any immediate threat of flash flooding. However, any activation of the siren outside the stated times indicates that the townships are at risk of flash flooding.

Killarney Emergency Warning Siren is located at the Killarney Police Station, Ivy Street.

TODAY'S QUOTE

"Never lend your car to anyone to whom you have given birth" - Erma Bombeck

BAD JOKE OF THE WEEK

Four young bulls were boasting of their plans for the future.

"I'm going to Rome to become a Papal Bull". said one.

"I'm going to become a stock market bull", said another.

"I want to be a bull in a china shop" said the third.

"Well, said the fourth "I'm not going anywhere - I shall stay here for heifer and heifer and heifer."

DOUBLE HELIX QUIZ ANSWERS

1. c) A rattlesnake's rattle is made from keratin, the same material that makes up hair and nails.
2. Cold air is denser than warm air, which is why warm air rises.
3. b). A pipistrelle is a type of bat.
4. The World Solar Challenge races from Darwin to Adelaide.
5. c) The layer of the atmosphere closest to the ground is the troposphere.

St. Patrick's School News

Multi-Age Classrooms
Classroom structures and staffing will be finalised in the coming weeks. Many of the conversations that come up around these decisions from our families generally tend to come from questions of which classes will be single year levels and which will be a combination of levels; or, 'multi-age'. The choice for schools in relation to the formation of multi- age classrooms is dependent on student numbers, staffing numbers and/or teaching approach. It is the last of these that requires more attention as many families believe that single stream is better than multi-age. What you might find surprising is that schools, much larger than ours in metropolitan areas, have moved to a multi-age structure of classrooms because of the opportunities it presents to learners academically and socially.

Allora P-10 State School News

Awards Night

An invitation is extended to members of the Allora community to attend our annual Awards Night on Tuesday 19 November 2019 at 7.30pm in the School Hall. Students' outstanding academic or sporting achievements are recognised by the presentation of awards on the night. We are grateful for past community support and would appreciate any assistance towards the 2019 awards. Receipts will be issued and all donations will be acknowledged in the Awards Night program.

Toy Donations

Donations of good quality toys (such as prams, dolls, books, puzzles, card games, board games) are welcome to the Anglican Parish of Allora Clifton for use at their monthly Family Service. This family oriented service is held on the second Sunday of each month at All Saints', Clifton at 4pm and is followed by a shared meal. Enquiries are welcome on 4666 3343 and all families are welcome!

Attendance

Parents / carers are reminded that it is a legal requirement to have all student absences explained. The easiest way to explain any student absence is simply text 0429 316 194 providing the student's name and reason for absence, early on the day the student is absent, or alternatively, reply to the text message sent to parents / carers by SMS.

School Uniforms

Our school is cracking down on students who are persistently and deliberately not wearing their uniform to school. School hats or caps and black, leather upper shoes, appear to be the items of the uniform some students are not wearing. If for some reason families are finding it tough to replace items of our uniform, we have a second hand pool of clothes, hats and shoes, which are available for purchase at a fraction of the original price.

Please see our administration for more information. Thank you in advance for ensuring that your children come to school each day in the correct uniform.

Shaun Kanowski,
Principal
