Clifton Progress Association Welcomes Funding

The Federal Government is providing funding of $20,000 to the Clifton and District Progress Association through the Building Better Regions Fund (BBRF).

The aim is to deliver a new destination event during the traditionally quiet winter season.

Federal Member for Maranoa, David Littleproud said the Government's investment will create economic opportunities not just in town but across the electorate.

"This is a proud day for the region in our fight to make sure we get our fair share," Mr Littleproud said.

"The Government is backing this project so local people can have a vision for the future, while creating jobs to boost the local economy.

"This project will be aimed at attracting visitors and bringing investment into town. This has the potential to transform Clifton and the surrounding area."

Under Round 5 of the BBRF, the Government has committed almost $300 million to support 295 projects across regional Australia, which will create an estimated 9,900 jobs during the project period.

This latest funding round takes our total support through the BBRF to $1.38 billion across nearly 1,300 projects.

Warwick Waste Facility Operational

Southern Downs Regional Council enters a new era in sustainable waste management practices with the official opening of the region's first engineered lined landfill cell at the Warwick Waste Facility.

Incorporating the latest innovative technology, the new 23,500m² cell is supported by a modern leachate collection system to ensure all contaminated water is safely collected with no impact the environment.

"Council invests approximately $10m per year in waste management and acknowledges that there's not much financial wriggle room in this model.

"With this investment, Council has delivered an engineered site that sustainably and financially responds to the need to be more innovative on how we handle our waste products - this landfill cell is an exciting start to supporting the region for future generations." Southern Downs Mayor Pennisi said.

Interesting data on the facility -

- The cell has been excavated to 2m in depth due to geotechnical constraints.
- A total of 38,000 cubic meters of material was removed to create the cell.
- There is approximately 145,000 cubic meters of airspace available to fill.

- The site will be filled to a height of 12.5m above the natural ground level.
- The cell has a life expectancy of 5.5 year based on 26,000 cubic meters of waste to landfill a year.
- The project also included the construction of a new 7ML stormwater dam which collects clean stormwater from around the landfill cell.

- Fully funded by Council, the project came in on the allocated $3.1m budget.
- Materials for the project were sourced locally where possible and it has been estimated that approximately $650k was spent directly on the Southern Downs.

Champion Of Champions Ekka Sheep Competition

Last Saturday the RNA Champion of Champions Sheep Event was held at the Pittsworth Showgrounds. Sponsored by Dickson Ag, this is the richest event of its kind in Australia offering some $3000 prizemoney with the Champion in each section taking home $600 and the Reserve $400.

Prior to the Champion of Champions event, the RNA Stud Sheep competition was held to find the entrants eligible from the RNA for the Champion of Champions event. Sheep were accepted from the Pittsworth, Inglewood, Allora, Clifton, Warwick, Toowoomba and Mt Gravatt Shows.

There were sixty eight sheep at Pittsworth for the RNA competition covering seven breeds of sheep with Stud sheep from Milton Park, Sovereign Poll Dorset, Plainview, Silverdale studs and three schools.

Chair of the RNA Wool Committee Will Roberts said the RNA was delighted to be able to run the competition at the weekend and it was great for those exhibitors who have spent days, weeks and months preparing their entries.

"This means competitors' hard work will continue to be recognised and the highly coveted champion blue ribbons can still be awarded, despite the Ekka's cancellation."

Equestrian Group News

The Allora Show Society Equestrian Group recently held a very successful competition weekend. On Saturday 9th October a T shirt (relaxed, unofficial show horse) Hack Day was held with special classes for Off The Track Thoroughbred horses with generous prizes including $500 from Racing Queensland with riders travelling from Chinchilla, Roma Brisbane, Boonah, Toowoomba and the local areas.

Then, on Sunday, 10th October a Dressage Competition was held at the showgrounds and it was well supported by both locals and riders from Inglewood, Brisbane and Boonah areas.

A special thank you to all the generous volunteers who helped make the weekend a success.

The photo shows the winning Supreme Hack of the show, a lovely little mare owned and ridden by Jayne Shatte from Amiens on AJS Regal Jitterbug and she is watched by members of the Qld Caravan club who were spending the weekend at the grounds too.

On Sunday 14th November the Cowboy Dressage riders will be on the grounds and a 3 day show is being held by the Allora Kennel Club Inc on 19th to 21st November with lots of different breeds on display. The canteen will be running for the whole weekend.

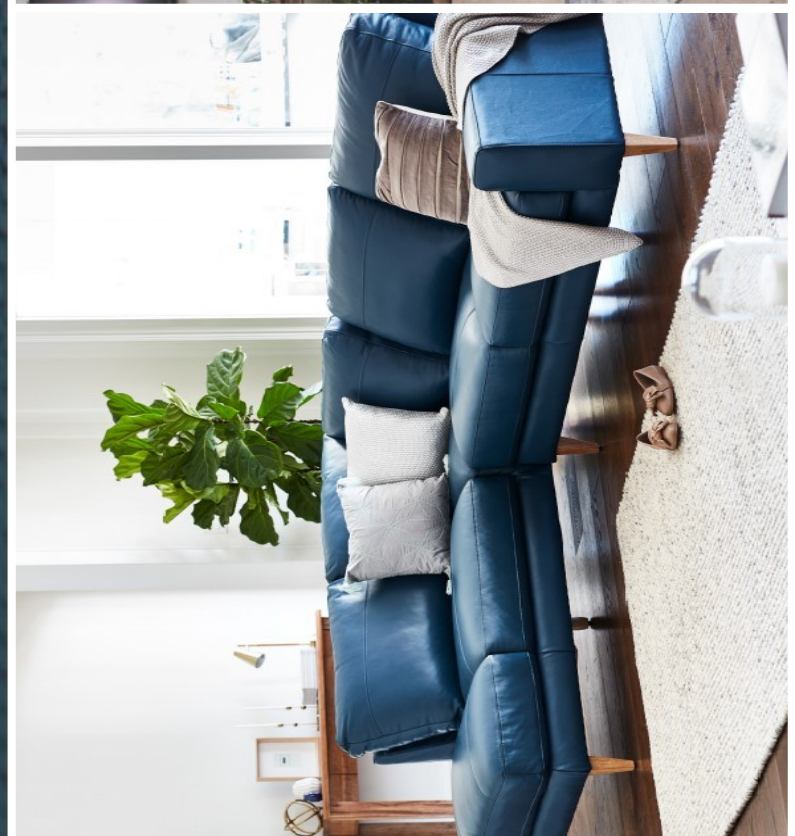

Various caravan clubs have been staying on the grounds and more are booked in, and we thank them for choosing Allora to visit.

Drone Commander adds to fleet

Cambooya-based agricultural business Drone Commander has expanded their fleet by adding a DJI AGRAS T20 Spraying Drone.

Drone Commander principal Roger Woods said the T20 in DJI AGRAS T20 signifies that it has a capacity of 20 litres or kilograms.

"It is double the capacity of our other drones," Mr Woods said.

"It has very high levels of technology.

"We can cover a much larger area in much shorter time."

The new drone can cover six hectares an hour, which is better than double the amount Drone Commander's previous drones could cover.

Mr Woods said Drone Commander has been given permission to use the new drone commercially by the Civil Aviation Safety Authority (CASA).

"They came and tested us on our farm at Cambooya.

"CASA granted us approval to use the DJI AGRAS T20 commercially," he said.

Allora Bowls Notes

WEEK 7 - What a friendly atmosphere at the night bowls. Laughter, banter, squeals (that's me) topped off with music. Although I must admit that up in top corner the music is just the right volume!

Great selection of subs Patto! See photo of Burnt Clutch Bandits. An ex-police officer, a responsible school bus driver and well may be "Big Bad Bruce" fits the bill!

We had two whole teams out this week. It gave Patto a headache trying to juggle the players. The Pig Lures who won on a forfeit from Railway, were split into three teams. Ashleigh was happy to be with Bowls, Beers and Bitches and had some great laughs. Not sure where Chris ended up. The first night back for Bev and straight into the top team. Patto should be thankful she and Plug were in top form!

At the head of the list on rink 1. What a Show had their first win. They are now out of running for the 'booby' prize. They beat the substitute team for Burnt Clutch Bandits 23-2. Other results:- Rink

Burnt Clutch Bandits.

2. Do It Again 23 v Stone Cutters 9; Rink 3. Generation Gap 11 v The Three Stoogers 11; Bowls, Beers and Bitches 22 v The Two Poc Crew 8; Rink 5. Fire Ants 16 v Phoenix Rising 9; Rink 6. Peaky

Blinders 11 v Doesn't Matter 10

The Paul Parker toucher winners were Ken Wilson, Paul

Eastwell, Tony Morris, John Cochrane, Kate Shooter and Lyn Patto.

Peaky Blinders and The Two Poc Crew were winners on rink numbers 6 & 4 drawn out to win the Tony Morris winners and losers competition.

To finish the night, Patto makes sure that all sponsors and volunteers are thanked. Thank you to Allora Butchery, Railway Hotel, True Value Hardware, Percy Fruit and Allora Sports Club who donate raffle prizes each week.

A big hello to Roy in hospital. Best wishes from all your mates at the Allora Sports Club.

Allora Sports Club Re-Elects Kev Harrison As President

At the recent Annual General Meeting of the Sports Club Kev was elected unopposed for the 16th consecutive year. Other executive positions resulted in Rob Hoey continuing as Vice-President, Greg Patterson as Patron, John Ellwood as Secretary/Treasurer and Wendy Ellwood as Provedore.

Golf Club elections resulted in Lenny Hoey being returned as Club President with a new Golf Club Captain elected in John Ellwood.

Allora Golf Course One Of Best In District

President Kev Harrison reported that the club had enjoyed another outstanding year. Participation in golf by both members and social golfers was very strong. A heavy capital programme was undertaken on the course during the year with the building of the "Maher-Rickert" bridge across the Dalrymple Creek, irrigation laid on the fairways and cart paths established around the course. Kev believes that the Allora course is now one of the best in the district and congratulated Golf Club Captain Aaron Simpson for his efforts and thanked the many volunteers who work on the course.

Night Bowls Popular

President Kev thanked Greg Patterson who continues to do an amazing job in promoting bowls in Allora. The night bowls just goes from strength to strength with new bowlers every season. Greg is supported each and every week by a fantastic bunch of volunteers.

Catering At The Club

The Sports Club catering business was a successful year despite the challenges. The Sports Club catered for almost 30 functions last year and enjoys an excellent reputation for both quality of meal and personalised service as well as the relaxing ambience of the clubhouse. Thanks to the club's wonderful sponsors and the Allora community who always demonstrate tremendous support for the club.
