Parish Dinner Well Supported

Plenty of lively conversation abounded in the Allora Anglican Church Hall on Saturday evening.

Barbara Corby, Rev Courtney Smith, Sid Telford, Stuart & Ann Campbell.

A gathering of fifty members of both Clifton and Allora Parishes as well as guests attended the Parish Dinner on Saturday evening to introduce the Smiths.

Since arriving to Allora in February the Reverend Courtney Smith and her husband Ken have been welcomed into the community.

Courtney spoke of starting out in her home country of Indiana USA and following her life until coming to Allora.

The Smiths were treated to the great Aussie meal of pies and peas followed by pudding, catered by the Allora Butchery.

Then it was time to enjoy the fine music played by Karen and Craig Nankervis of Peachester.

It proved to be a great gathering for all involved - summed up by a parish member: "What a joy being with my church family in our community".

Keep your business running smoothly.

Wikner Drives Into Hearts Of Motoring Enthusiasts

It's Doug Partington's pride and joy but he's willing to share.

The Allora Sports Museum offered Doug the opportunity to display his Wikner Ford Special at the Museum.

Naturally the Wikner will be placed in a controlled environment that will be a special glassed area with an all weather covering to protect it from sun, rain and hail. Picture this - on show seven days a week and lit up each night for everyone's enjoyment.

It will be allowed out for special demonstration events.

Special plans have been drawn with support for the project coming from the Southern Downs Regional Council.

We're all excited and waiting for action. Once the old Allora Fire Station has been demolished, the septic re-configured, the library moved and the sports museum in it's new home we can expect to see Allora's latest attraction.

Proposed location for the Wikner display at the Museum.

Work Started On Old Fire Station

In the past couple of days a few panels of the facade have been removed from the old fire station building in Herbert Street.

Aspokesperson from the Southern Downs Regional Council said -

"The work completed to date is minor and did not require a demolition permit. Full demolition will commence once the necessary approvals have been issued, and the application is currently under assessment. Once approved, Council's contractor will proceed with the full demolition of the old fire shed building.

The Allora Community is looking forward to the future redevelopment of the site which will be known as the Allora Community Precinct and will now have the added attraction of the famous Wikner.

NIOA and RL Pastoral Successful Annual Sale

The two Santa Gertrudis studs marked a successful return to the on-property auction ring with a full clearance at their third annual joint sale held last Thursday.

After two years of American-style video selling, NIOA and RL showed off the best of their best in a hangar-turned-all-weather sale barn at NIOA Pastoral Co.'s Talgai Homestead near Allora.

Against the backdrop of a huge Australian flag, bidders voted with their hands and feet - with the stands packed, plus many more watching the livestream and all 51 bulls finding new homes.

Buyers came from Queensland's southeast corner to properties in Cloncurry, Richmond and Hughenden in the northwest, southwest to Cunnamulla, north to Clermont, Nebo, Marlborough, Taroom on the Western Downs, the New South Wales Northern Rivers region and as far as Tasmania.

Repeat buyer Craig Ross of Ross Grazing, Kemmis Creek, Nebo led the charge, snapping up four head - three Riverina bulls and one NIOA bull - for an outlay of $56,500 including the Lot 4 sale topper Riverina Tambo T20 (P) for $22,500.

The first bull up in the NIOA draft was Lot 9 - the 24-month-old NIOA Utah U11 (P) weighing in at 1095kg with an eye muscle of 134sq cm, IMF of 7.4 per cent, rib scan 20 and scrotal circumference of 41cm. The son of Tookey Creek N24 (P) out of Rosevale Ada N353 (P) is now on his way to Taroom, Queensland, after the Brigadoon Cattle Co. paid $15,000.

Riverina Santa Gertrudis catalogued 12 Classified S heifers with 11 selling under the stick and one afterwards for an average of $4045.

Sale manager and RL Pastoral's Rob Sinnamon, presiding over his 35th santa stud sale, was pleased with the results while the initial feedback on the revised format proved it was the right decision.

"I reckon we had 100 bid cards or more and there would've been 200 people here," he said.

"(Overall) there's a lot more confidence re-emerging in the industry and I think that's been reflected (today), while it's still a little reserved, we saw a total clearance - that is something we strived to do."

Similarly, NIOA Santa Gertrudis General Manager Shannon Gardner said the success of the event combined with growing industry confidence set a positive tone for future selling seasons including next year with the first sons of Australian breed record breakers Yarrowonga Spartacus S316 (P) and Riverina Roland Sanchez R88 (PP).

"I think it's been a great result for a smaller stud within the industry. We were very happy to receive $15,000 for Lot 9 to a repeat buyer in Brigadoon (Cattle Co.)," he said.

Warriors Curtain Falls on 2024

The 2024 Toowoomba Rugby League season curtain fell for the Wattles Warriors reserve grade team in Sunday's Preliminary Final after finishing behind the Valleys Roosters 28 - 10 at Toowoomba's Clive Berghofer Stadium.

The grinding game was anyone's at halftime, before Valleys found a few extra legs to exert their authority across the second stanza, running in four tries to one across the final thirty-five minutes.

Valleys hard fought success ushers them into next Sunday's reserve grade grand final against the Minor Premier Warwick Cowboys.

The Roosters snatched an early lead through their fullback Curtly Hammond off the back of a chip kick by five-eight Jaren Bender to lead 4 - 0 in a tightly contested first half.

Wattles finally broke onto the scoreboard when centre Brayden Wilson crashed over in the corner six minutes prior to the half time hooter, and with a sensational sideline conversion by halfback Tom Morris, Wattles went to the break with a 6 - 4 advantage.

Roosters' winger Uraia Korol crossed for what could be considered the touchdown of the match with his outstanding eighty metre individual effort five minutes into the new half.

The Korol try eased Valleys ahead 10 - 6, and when team mate and second rower Jake Lawry scored the first of his try double for the game, the Roosters surged further ahead 16 - 6 with twenty minutes to play.

With twelve minutes remaining on the match clock Curtly Hammond added to his shining performance with a second four-pointer, the Roosters taking a firm grip leading 22 - 6 as they worked to shut the game out.

While time was of the essence, Wattles were kept in touch at 10 - 22 when second - rower Jordan Henry shaped to pass and held up the defence before a fifteen-metre charge reaped a vital try as the game wound down.

The second Jake Lawry touchdown put paid to Wattles 2024 season, as Valleys reached their winning 28-10 total and booked a ticket to the Grand Final and a chance to defend their 2023 premiership.

Ever dependable back rower Nick Morris was a premium performer for the Warriors, while bench forward Jordan Henry was another to excel.

Coach Tony Morris who completed his second season coaching the Wattles reserve graders commented, "it was certainly a tough day but that's footy."

"The boys had a solid first half, but as has been the case at times this season, they never brought that form out of the dressing shed after half time.

Valleys were in great form, and have been admirable opponents over the season."

Coach Shaun Weatherall rated his Roosters forwards Joe Mua, and Jake Lawry, along with fullback Curtly Hammond and centre Sam Lawry among his best, "the lads were very good for us."

"Our team's second half defence was one of our strengths, we kept showing up and working hard for each other.

Our completion rate in the second half was also a bonus, we controlled the ball a lot better and were able to put points on the board."

The Wattles Preliminary Final Reserve Grade team: 1. Josh Henry, 2. Alex Morris, 3. Lachlan Henry, 4. Braydon Wilson, 5. Isaac Leach, 6. Ryan Stevens, 7. Tom Morris, 8. Garth Lonergan, 9. Zac Stevens, 10. Dan Rub, 11. Tim Duggan, 12. Nick Morris, 13. Jack Duggan, 14. Michael Duggan, 15. Aaron Scheid, 16. Marley Tunstead, 17. John Lazzaroni, 18. Jordan Henry, 19. Ryan Duggan, 20. Paul Christensen.

Valleys 28 (Curtly Hammond 2, Jake Lawry 2, Uraia Korol, tries Jaren Bender 4 goals) Wattles 10 (Braydon Wilson Jordan Henry tries Tom Morris goal).

BAD JOKE OF THE WEEK

A woman returning from a fishing trip with her husband told her troubles to a neighbour.

"I did everything wrong again - I talked too loudly, used the wrong bait, reeled too soon... and I caught more fish than he did."
