Local Heritage Register open for review

Southern Downs Regional Council has released the proposed new Southern Downs Local Heritage Register for public review. The Heritage Register proposes to protect 412 buildings across the region as unique and important places of cultural heritage. The buildings were identified in an award winning cultural heritage study conducted by Council as part of the Southern Downs Planning Scheme project.

Jeanette Davis, Strategic Planning Manager at Council, said that feedback from the community during the early stages of the planning scheme preparation process clearly indicated the importance of heritage buildings to the character and appeal of the Region.

"It was clear that people felt it important to protect heritage buildings for both the character of the region and for future generations to enjoy," Ms Davis said.

"People should now have a look to see if they think the right buildings are listed or if they think a building should be added to or taken off the list."

Ms Davis said that was particularly so in the Granite Belt area, where there is no pre-existing register under the Stanthorpe Town Plan.

"There are also a few additional buildings in the Warwick area on the proposed new Local Heritage Register than there were on the pre-existing Warwick Shire heritage register," Ms Davis said.

"If your property is listed, but you think that your place (or any other place on the Register) is not a place of cultural heritage significance to the Southern Downs you can write to Council stating why the place does not have cultural heritage significance."

Your submission must be received by 16 September 2011. Your submission will then be referred to Council's heritage consultant for advice to Council about your submission and Council will write to you advising you of the decision.

The cultural heritage study is on line at <http://www.southerndowns.qld.gov.au/nps/> or you can see a printed copy at Council's offices at 27 Fitzroy Street Warwick and 61 Marsh Street Stanthorpe.

The Queensland Heritage Act requires that local governments must keep a register of places of cultural heritage significance in the area.

The Act also sets out how properties can be included in the register.

To include a property on the Local Heritage Register, Council must give the owner of the place notice of the proposal and publish a notice in a newspaper listing the places that may be included, giving reasons for the inclusion and seeking submissions about the inclusion.

Council must then consider all submissions and make a decision whether to include the place before giving written notice to the land owner and anyone else who may have made a submission.

Review a copy of the Cultural Heritage Study and the draft planning scheme by logging on to <http://www.southerndowns.qld.gov.au/nps/>, coming into Council offices or making an appointment Jeanette Davis, Council's Manager of Strategic Planning. Please see the website or flyers at the Council offices or libraries for the times and places that she will be available.

Update on rates notices

Council advises that Southern Downs rates notices have been forwarded to the printers for issue and are expected to be in ratepayers' letterboxes this week.

Residents will have 30 days from the date of issue on their rates notice to pay their rates in full in order to receive a 10 percent discount. The discount will not be allowed on rates unless paid by the discount due date.

If you believe your property is rated in the incorrect category, you can object. A "Notice of Objection against Categorisation" must be lodged within 30 days of the issue date of the rates notice.

An objection to your rating category may take longer than 30 days to process and ratepayers who are objecting are reminded that they must still pay their rates in full within 30 days, regardless of the status of their objection, to receive the 10% discount. If the objection is allowed and the rating category is changed the rates will be adjusted at that time.

Please see the insert in your rates notice for instructions on paying your rates and objecting to a rates category.

BAD JOKE OF THE WEEK

A cruise ship had on board a performing magician for the passengers. The magician always had a parrot on his shoulder. Whenever the magician told a joke, the parrot would give it away.

One time the magician had a knife, he spun it around it disappeared! The parrot said "It's in his pocket, it's in his pocket". The crowd booed him because the parrot gave it away.

The next trick he did, he waved a wand around and it vanished. Again, the parrot said, "It's up his sleeve! It's up his sleeve!"

The magician got mad because he couldn't keep any of his tricks secret. The parrot kept giving them away.

One day the cruise ship sank. The magician and the parrot managed to make it to an island where they stayed for about 3 months when the parrot, all of a sudden, burst out and asked:

"Ok, I give up! Where'd you hide the ship?"

Letters to the Editor...

Dear Editor,

"Plans hatched for economy boost" had a small group of councillors off-side, part of the Allora community off-side, and the Warwick town plan also off-side. Knowing that dissent against the chicken hatchery is unwelcome, with courage I ask: Why Allora Town area, why upon an alluvial plain, and what planning officer approved the development? Is the safety of Allora bore water assured?

A moment of your time please Mr Bray to issue a guarantee that your business will never become our business, in our homes or in our gardens.

Your word will be most comforting come November 2011 when the first of the major floods predicted by the meteorologist who warned of last summer's devastating floods arrives. The US National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration has also declared a La Nina watch on August 4th. The weather is not predictable Mr Bray, however a word or two from you, who writes in such glowing terms of the business that will become our neighbour, will display your good intentions.

Please explain how 50,000 litres of waste water will know not to reach into the creek each and every-day. What will graze the growth?

Melba Morris

Dear Editor

After reading the approval of the proposed One Million a week Chicken Hatchery on Bradfields Road, Allora, I must express my severe disappointment in Councils decision. Going the way of our Federal Govt. they have bowed to the Big Business regime instead of listening to us, the people, when they are supposed to be our voice.

They will live to regret it, and I pray we do not have to pay for it in money and grief. Mentioned conditions hopefully will put all our disapprovals at rest, but I can not see how there cannot be trouble in the future from this.

I also know that 2-4 hour old chickens are hardly steady enough to be shoved into large trays or boxes on to a truck and then carted off to who knows where. Resulting losses from this treatment is wearable to them. After all what are a few hundred or thousand dead chickens in a Million a week this would be an acceptable loss.

And even admission by the builder, that flooding when it occurred, not if, the chickens would be put down, possibly the whole Million, is not enough to sway our Councilors to prevent the start up of this venture.

Do not sit on your laurels, voice your own disapproval now and later, with this and any issue.

If my concerns come to fruition I will move, sadly, away from the stink and noise, and I will not be alone.

Learn how climate change could affect the Upper Condamine Region

Earlier this month a very well attended workshop was held in Stanthorpe on climate change and biodiversity. Nearly 70 participants enjoyed a beautiful day and excellent presentations at the Queensland College of Wine Tourism.

Leading climate change specialists will this time be coming to Warwick on Tuesday 30 August 2011 to discuss how climate change may affect the Upper Condamine region and its biodiversity.

The Risks and Implications of Climate Change for the Upper Condamine Region workshop is hosted by Southern Downs Regional Council in partnership with Condamine Headwaters Landcare.

Attendance is free thanks to funding from the Australian Government's Water for the Future initiative through the Strengthening Basin Communities program.

Council's Rose Coburn said it would help locals to understand the possible impacts of climate change in the region and identify strategies to minimise those impacts on biodiversity values in areas of high conservation importance.

The workshop kicks off with David Cobon from the Queensland Climate Change Centre of Excellence presenting the latest climate change projections for the Warwick area.

Then Greg Ford from Balance! Environmental and Dr Darren Fielder, an experienced environmental consultant will discuss predicted impacts on biodiversity from climate change. They will explore what strategies can be adopted to minimise the impacts on terrestrial and aquatic species.

Dawn Heath from Condamine Headwaters Landcare will then present a session on High Value Nature Conservation Areas in the Upper Condamine Headwaters area.

After lunch there will be an interactive workshop to identify key landscape elements that require careful management to encourage resilience for the regions flora and fauna in the face of an uncertain future.

The free workshop runs from 9.00am to 2.30pm at the Palace

Presenters Neil Cliffe (left) and David Cobon at the Stanthorpe Climate Change workshop, held at the Queensland College of Wine Tourism in Stanthorpe earlier this month. People flocked to the Climate Change workshop in Stanthorpe - now that workshop is coming to Warwick

Members of the Committee as well as interested members of the public are invited to attend to hear initial proposals of the intended Shire projects.

(The Allora Bi-Centennial Committee under the chairmanship of Jim Deacon with Geraldine Ashton as secretary, Colin Newport as treasurer, and a committee including Lex Ellwood, Ding Atkinson, Sue Cowley, Debbie Smith, Cherrie Smith, Bruce Burge, Peter Mantle, Jackie Gallagher, Denise Dalgleish and Margaret Parsons (apologies to anyone that I have left out) set about planning Shire projects which included improvements to the Community Hall and the re-printing of the book "Allora's Past" and also organizing two of the bigger public celebrations in Allora's history, Australia Day 1988 and "Back to Allora Day", August 22nd, 1988)

Record Wheat Crop

Glengallan farmer, Mr. Jacob Holmes, has just harvested his second wheat crop from the same piece of land within a twelve month period. The 14 acre paddock was first planted with wheat in July 1935 and a good average crop was harvested in December that year. The paddock was re-planted with wheat in March this year with the idea of using the crop as cattle feed. In spite of only 70 points of rain falling in the growing period, the crop was allowed to ripen and was harvested in July producing high quality grain.

Football

The Warwick Rover's football team journeyed to Allora on Wednesday afternoon and played a game with a local fifteen. After a keen game the match ended in a draw, neither team scoring. The visitors were entertained after the game at Downes' Cafe.

Not so Junior Juniors

On Wednesday afternoon last week, a team of Allora juniors went out to Spring Creek to play a game of football against a team of Spring Creek juniors. When they got to the grounds the appearance of those juniors staggered them. Many of the Allora juniors were small, while most of the Spring Creek juniors were surprisingly large. However they had gone to battle, and battle they did. They didn't win the game but at its conclusion they were comforted by Spring Creek admitting that its juniors were in height and weight, much finer specimens than those of Allora. Notwithstanding that, great consolation was found in the big feed that the big juniors gave to the little ones and the hearty cheers with which they sent them home..

Free breast cancer screening in Allora

The free breast cancer screening service provided by BreastScreen Queensland Toowoomba Service is returning to Allora on its two-yearly visit.

The Service will be located at Southern Cross Care and will offer free BreastScreens from 28th September to 7th October. For over 19 years BreastScreen Queensland Toowoomba Service has provided a high-quality breast cancer screening service for women in southern Queensland.

"We recognise that health services are usually difficult to access in rural areas, and as such we encourage women to attend the Mobile Breast Cancer Screening Service when it is in Allora," said Ms Jessica Hobbs, Health Promotion Officer at the Service.

"It is especially important for women in the 50 to 69 year age group to have a breast screen every two years," she emphasised, "but all women 40 and over with no signs or symptoms of breast cancer are also eligible to participate in the free Program."

"Research has shown that breast cancer screening is the most effective way of detecting early breast cancer, even before it can be felt," said Dr Christine Harget-White, Director of BreastScreen Queensland Toowoomba Service.

"Identifying breast cancer at an early stage gives women the best possible chance of successful treatment." Phone 13 20 50 to book an appointment for your FREE breast screen.

Work starts on sewer to new Warwick industrial estate

Southern Downs Regional Council engineering staff last week began construction of a new sewer extension to the AXIS Industrial Estate in Kenilworth Street, Warwick. The $400,000 job will connect the site to the town sewerage system allowing the developers to provide more modern industrial and commercial sites to help attract business to Warwick.

"Having a fully-serviced industrial estate available in Warwick is a big plus for our local economy," said Tony Minuti, Director Community Services.

"For the past 30 years, the only large blocks of serviced industrial land were owned by the State Government, and there were very onerous conditions on what types of business could buy that land," Mr Minuti said.

"This restricted the growth somewhat of Warwick in the past as an industrial and service centre.

"A key part of our region's economic development is the establishment of new business, and the AXIS Estate provides that opportunity."

In exchange for Council constructing the sewer, the developer has agreed to reconstruct Kenilworth Street to an industrial standard.

The sewage line will run from an existing 225 mm sewer on railway land adjacent to Schnitzerling Street in the Warwick Industrial estate to connect to the new industrial estate being developed on the old Woollen Mill site.

This sewage line will be above ground so it can cross a small gully at the northern end of the sale yards, which is lower than where it will connect to the existing sewer, without the need for a pump station.

Countdown to West Spring Spectacular

The countdown to spring is on. While gardeners are suddenly itching to get their hands dirty, the hands of Warwick West school children, parents and teachers are busy in preparation for their annual Spring Spectacular Fete, to be held on Friday, September 9.

P&C President, Tracy Vellacott, said that the school's annual fete was definitely a case of many hands make light work.

"Our Spring Spectacular is the school's biggest fundraiser each year and a very wet and soggy 2010 fete has left us keen for a bumper event in 2011," Mrs Vellacott said.

Mrs Vellacott believes the fete is an opportunity to draw on the strengths and expertise of parents, teachers and students, as well as the wealth of goodwill from community organisations.

"To keep things manageable, each class in the school is assigned a stall to operate.

"By giving each class an area to run, it gives maximum opportunity for people to participate and also greater flexibility to enjoy the fete with the family," she said.

Principal, Jason Callcott sees the fete as a day when children and parents can enjoy some traditional fun together.

"With rides, food and entertainment, this is a day the kids look forward to all year and it also provides an important boost to the P&C's ongoing program of enhancements to the school's facilities," Mr Callcott said.

Good weather will equate to strong attendance and plenty of excitement in the portable fairground. This year's amusement rides will include Mega Chairs, Rock 'n Roll Round Up, Lasseter's Lost Gold Mine, Super Slide and the Mat Hatter's Cup and Saucer ride.

"Our oval becomes just like a regular sideshow alley but the good thing is that parents can pay one price, and the kids can ride all night long," Mrs Vellacott said.

Armbands, which entitle the wearer to unlimited rides for the fete's duration, can be purchased from the school prior to fete day for $32 per person.

Mrs Vellacott is keen for the whole community to support the school's night-time fete, which includes a variety of entertainment, food and stalls.

"P&C's are a necessary player in today's education system and work hard to raise funds to provide resources for students and teachers, so it's rewarding when initiatives like the fete are well-supported."

"We've recently allocated $36,000 in funding towards new reading resources for Prep to Year 3 students so we have to sell a lot of fairy floss and show bags to fund this initiative." Any enquiries on the fete should be made to the school by phoning 4660 5333.

Warriors Taste Defeat in All Grades

The curtain fell on Wattles 2011 season at Dalby on Sunday, the Warriors suffering defeats in all three grades. The depleted "National Farmer's Warehouse" first grade side lost to the "Diehards" 33 - 18, after trailing 6 - 14 at half time. The Dalby side, who like Wattles were playing for honour given they had no chance of a finals series appearance, led 14 - 0 by the 34th minute. Wattles talented back rower Luke Baker appeared to have put his side on the scoreboard after a short kick-off after a Dalby try, only to be denied, penalized for a double movement. Wattles had to wait until the 39th minute to score their first points, a try by five-eight Jeff Nielson just prior to the half time hooter. The try had its makings when Nielson feed flying fullback Brenden Wilson off the back of a scrum win, Wilson motoring forty metres before finding winger Michael McCarthy running the sideline resulting in Wattles being in a prime attacking position.

The "Diehards" increased their lead to 20 - 6 at the fifty minute mark, but Baker got his chance again soon after, running on to a good Nielson pass and slicing through the defence to score & have Wattles trailing 12 - 20. Dalby sparked in response, scoring twice and also pocketing a field goal through their skipper James Galligan. Honest toiling prop Jason Nightingale was "Johnny on the spot" when his team mate Dale Dempsey slipped through the defence and found himself over the try line

& under the goal posts before off loading to Nightingale to touch down for the scoring honours.

Well performed reserve grade half of recent weeks Jordan Henry debuted in top grade, playing hooker in the absence of usual rake Liam Ross. Ross missed the match through illness, Wattles also without classy forwards Jake Dingle, Glen McMillan, Matt McCarthy & valuable utility player Xavier Manley. Aaron Scheid was Wattles best player, despite being under an injury cloud prior to the game, while 17 year old Lee Lousick also excelled in Wattles engine room along with classy back-rower Luke Baker. Along with the Nielson, Nightingale & Baker tries, Wattles points also came from goals by Rob Woodbridge, Jason Nightingale & Brady Glass.

Wattles most recent first grade debutantes Lauchlan Hoey & Jordan Henry teamed up with experienced hands Tim Hentschel & Dan Sullivan in the Warriors last 33 - 18 Round loss to Dalby on Sunday.

Wattles Under 12 Semifinal report

The Wattles Juniors contested semi-final positions in both U12 and U13 against Collegians in Warwick on the weekend. Unfortunately for both this was the end for their 2011 season, being knocked out of further competition. Wattles would like to thank all players, team officials, tireless volunteers and parents for their efforts this year, making this another great year of football for the junior Warriors. Don't forget presentation day on September 10th at Platz Oval.

Finals continue next weekend at Stanthorpe, with the Warwick & District Grand final being played out in Goondiwindi on the 3rd of September.

WATTLES vs COLLEGIANS Knock out Semi final (Under 12)

The Ryanie for Tyres Wattles Under 12 team can hold their heads high even though they lost an extremely hard fought semi final against Collegians 10-6. Every time the boys ran on the field against Collegians this year, it was a close contest and this game was no different. Good field position did not come easy and although there were attacking opportunities they found it difficult to get the ball over the line. Every Wattles player had to work very hard in defence and it was truly a team effort to limit the Collegians scoring opportunities. With momentum swinging both ways many times during the game, the final result could have gone either way but it was not to be their day. The Under 12 coaching staff is very proud of this group of boys who have improved out of sight in 2011. They are committed young players who have a wonderful attitude both on and off the field and are prepared to put in the hard work needed to grow as a team. We wish them every success as they move up to Under 13's in 2012.

Wattles Reserve Grade

After the match was locked at 12 all at halftime, Wattles finals bound "Railway Hotel, Allora" reserve graders were beaten by Dalby 32 - 22. Anthony McIntosh, Josh McIntosh, Jim Johnston & Jeff Nielson scored the Warriors tries, Anthony McIntosh successful with 3 goals. Josh McIntosh finished with Wattles Player's Player and Player of the Match honours, while back-rower Sam Fuller and halfback Jordan Henry were also credible performers. Regardless of the loss, Wattles have finished fourth on the reserve grade ladder and will contest the TRL finals series commencing next weekend, taking on Goondiwindi on Saturday afternoon in the knockout minor semi-final.

Wattles Under 18

A little more success with goal kicking and the "Allora Foodworks" Wattles Under 18 side may well have finished their 2011 season with a win. Dalby snatched the premierships points winning 30 - 28, despite Wattles touching down for six tries. The Diehards led 20 - 10 at the break before Wattles, who played the match with only 12 players, embarked on a spirited comeback. Wattles try scorers were Anthony McIntosh, Tim Sharpe, Alex Morris, Matt Perry, Josh Henry & Brandon Cubby, while Anthony McIntosh kicked two goals. Coach Wally McIntosh was more than pleased with his side's effort, nominating all twelve players for best player honours. Warriors in Finals Fever as Reserve Grade Contest Semi-Final Wattles "Railway Hotel, Allora" Reserve Grade side commence their Toowoomba Rugby League Finals series campaign this Saturday when they run on at Toowoomba's Clive Berghofer Stadium against the Goondiwindi "Boars" in the Minor Semi-

Final at 5.40 pm.

The team finished in fourth place on the 2011 2nd Grade Premiership ladder, winning twelve matches and a draw from 22 starts, to finish the year with 25 competition points. Wattles last won a Reserve Grade TRL premiership in 1992 so they can rightly feel they are overdue to hoist the silverware yet again. The Warriors have tasted success against the "Boars" this season, while they lost at Goondy's Gilbert Oval by 30 – 46 in the early part of the season, the return bout at Platz Oval saw the illustrious Warriors win well by 52 – 18.

Wattles have size, strength, experience and youth in the side to take on the "Boars", and speed to burn in the backs. Point scoring phenomenon Anthony McIntosh will line up in the centres partnering classy former South West Division representative back Tim Hentschel. Seventeen year old McIntosh has accumulated a mammoth 371 points in all grades from two pre-season trials and the 22 Round Toowoomba Rugby League fixture season in 2011. Halfback Jordan Henry is among Wattles most consistent players this season, his defence especially affective, his name regularly among the Warriors best players. It will be up to him, clever five-eighth Dean Cubby and outstanding hooker Josh McIntosh to mastermind a Wattles win so as to advance to the next finals level, one step closer to a Grand Final berth.
